—FLORIDA, TEXAS VOTES PLEASING—

Kennedy Hits Untruths About Withholding Tax

...ON INTEREST AND DIVIDENDS

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy voiced pleasure Wednesday with Florida and Texas primary voting and strong displeasure at untruths he said savings associations and banks are flinging at withholding taxes on interest and dividends.

He said the withholding taxes would hit only tax evaders — not elderly people, orphans or persons with low incomes.

And at a news conference that ranged widely as usual over both domestic and foreign issues, Kennedy acknowledged talks with Russia over Berlin may fail. But he said that "these talks are going to continue," West Germany agrees that they should, and "the effort is worth it when we are dealing with such dangerous matters."

In Exchange

In a question and answer exchange with newsmen, Kennedy also: — spoke of U.S. concern at breach of the cease fire in Laos and called for quick negotiations to establish a neutral government — because the longer the delay "the more hazardous the situation becomes."

—Slapped at reverse freedom rides in which some Southern segregationists are paying bus fares of Negroes to the North, as "a rather cheap exercise."

The nationally televised and broadcast news conference got into politics in a couple of ways.

Kennedy was asked at one point whether he had any reason to believe that either end of the Democratic ticket in 1964 would be different in the light of rumors that Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson might be dropped from it.

Were Fortunate

"Well," Kennedy replied, "I don't know about what they will do with me, but I am sure that the vice president will be on the ticket if he chooses to run. We were fortunate to have him before, and would again. I don't know where such a rumor would start."

Twice the President called Johnson invaluable.

What comment did the President have on Tuesday's primary election results?

Pleased

"I am pleased at the result of the last few days, in Florida and Texas," Kennedy replied.

In Florida, Kennedy endorsed the Democratic renomination bids of Sen. George Smathers and Rep. Dante Fascell. Each won handily.

The Texas primary Saturday put John Connally, protege of Johnson and former Secretary of the Navy under Kennedy, into a run-off for the Democratic nomination for governor with Don Yarborough, Houston lawyer and ardent Kennedy supporter.

A prepared statement in hand, Kennedy strode into the session with newsmen. The

BILLIE SOL ESTES

Half A Million Cotton Penalty

. . . Texan's Troubles Mount

Washington (AP)—The Agriculture Department Wednesday slapped $554,162 in marketing penalties on troubled Texas financier Billie Sol Estes for 1961 cotton acreage allotments it says he obtained illegally.

He has the right to appeal and is expected to do so — first to local county farmer review committees in Texas, then to the courts if desired.

Estes was not available in Pecos, Tex., for comment. A person who answered the telephone in his luxurious home, where he now offices, said he was "traveling" and would not be available until Sunday. His whereabouts was unknown.

The assessments, latest development in the storm that has blown up around Estes' cotton-raising, grain storage and fertilizer operations, are aimed at 3,123 acres carrying cotton allotments in 3 Texas counties.

Leased to Him

The allotments belonged to farmers whose land was taken over by the government under the right of eminent domain. Estes contends he sold land to these farmers, who transfered their old cotton allotments to the new acreage, then leased the land and the allotments to him.

The department says investigation has shown the transactions were not bonafide sales, just a scheme to obtain the allotments in violation of existing laws — a charge Estes and his attorney deny.

Estes is under indictment for fraud in Texas in connection with the sale of chattel mortgages on non-existent fertilizer tanks and is under investigation in Washington to determine if he received favored treatment from Agriculture Department officials.

Other Developments

There were these other developments in the case:

—Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg said he had no knowledge of a published report that Assistant Secretary of Labor Jerry L. Holleman had asked Estes to pick up the tab for a testimonial dinner Goldberg gave in January for Vice President Johnson.

Holleman, in an explanatory statement issued later, said when he heard of the dinner he mentioned it to several Texas friends, including Estes, but without consulting Goldberg, thinking the Texans might wish to join in giving the party. He said the matter was quickly dropped because it was against Goldberg policy and Estes did not contribute a penny.

—It was learned President Kennedy has given some consideration to issuing a statement on the Estes case, but did not mention it at his news conference and was not asked about it.

—Well placed informants who decline use of their names said the Estes investigation may spread to other unnamed government agencies.

Republicans Eyed, Too

—They also said Justice Department and Senate investigators are looking into affairs of two Republicans formerly employed by the Agriculture Department in connection with the Estes case. The Republicans were identified as James A. McConnell and Walter Berger, employed in the department's Commodities Stabilization Service under former Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson during President Eisenhower's administration.

Both left the agency with the change of administration and served on the board of Commercial Solvents Corp. of New York.

No Stampeding

—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said his Senate investigations subcommittee will not be stampeded into opening hearings on the Estes case prematurely.

The subcommittee sent two more investigators into Texas. It already has 10 looking into charges that Estes received favored treatment in Washington.

Beck Opposes Any Favoritism

...IN PURCHASING ACTION

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

State Purchasing Agent Leo Beck Sr. Wednesday said he is "definitely against" a percentage tolerance which would show Nebraska firms favoritism in bids for state purchases.

The state does "not have enough industry as yet" to allow consideration of such a proposition, Beck said. Additionally, he declared, it would "raise taxes."

Gov. Frank Morrison said he agrees with Beck's position on the grounds that such a practice would be contrary to the historical position of the Legislature.

The matter was raised at a news conference called to announce distribution of a new 22-page booklet on purchasing purposes, procedures, rules, regulations and statutes.

Was Requested

The publication was prepared by Beck at the request of the governor.

It contains 8 rules and regulations prepared by the Standards and Specifications Committee and approved by the governor.

The rules received a public hearing April 18 at which time they attracted no objections.

Morrison said he hopes the rules revision will "get more people interested in bidding and thus be beneficial to the state."

The more competition the state attracts in bidding, "the better off we are," the governor pointed out.

'Area Enlarged'

Morrison said that since he has taken office the purchasing department has "enlarged the area of competitive bidding" and "moved in the direction of buying in larger quantities."

Weekly meetings of the Standards and Specifications Committee have also been initiated, he noted.

Beck's summary of purchasing procedures touched on two matters of past conflict:

—"In cases of question, the bid shall be discussed with the department making the requisition and where the low bid is not accepted or an alternate bid is desired the requisitioning department should justify in writing, giving their specific grounds for the guidance of the purchasing agent.

—" . . . once bids have been opened and they fill the need and qualifications of the item desired, the purchasing agent shall have the right to insist that those items should be purchased."

Among the 8 rules and regulations is one which provides that "no bid containing any deviation from the standards and specifications as prepared and promulgated by the Standards and Specifications Committee can be accepted without first obtaining the writtten consent of the governor in each instance."

Beck said the revised regulations are "only a start . . . We can't finish it until we get together with the Unicameral."

Beck is currently studying other states' procedures, particularly in relation to the purchase of heavy equipment, transits and foreign-made items.

—RENEWAL EFFECT ON NEGROES DISCUSSED—

'No Willy-Nilly Evictions'

By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

Leaders of the Organization for Urban Renewal (OUR) insisted Wednesday night that Negroes living east of the University of Nebraska city campus would not be evicted from their homes and scattered, willy-nilly, through other parts of the city if an urban renewal authority is voted into existence.

"A lot of those people are not going to find it necessary to move," said Willard E. Townsend, co-chairman with Lawrence E. Enersen, of OUR.

Enersen, an architect, explained that an urban renewal authority has a choice between redevelopment or rehabilitation of a blighted area. It is a choice between tearing down old unrepairable structues and erecting new houses, or remodeling existing buildings, he said.

"We think rehabilitation will be the dominant method used in Lincoln," Enersen said.

Questions Answered

Their statements were in answer to questions asked by listeners to OUR's paid political "Town Meeting of the Air," broadcast simultaneously by Lincoln's 4 radio stations.

The other speakers were Chauncey E. Barney, OUR speakers bureau chairman, and Norman Krivosha, an OUR committeeman. Both are Lincoln lawyers.

Other points the urban renewal sponsors made in answer to questions phoned in during the 60-minute program were:

—Voters will not be voting for federal funds if they vote for the creation of an urban renewal authority. The acceptance of this money is optional and has nothing to do with the authority's creation.

—Urban renewal will not provide public housing. Nebraska statutes forbid public housing.

—An urban renewal authority would not have housing inspectors.

—Local, state and the national government have concluded there is nothing unconstitutional about the creation of an urban renewal authority.

Expanding on the question, asked several times by listeners, whether Negroes would be uprooted and where they would go, Barney said urban renewal would assure Lincoln of a plan for dealing with Negro housing.

"Anyone is a fool who says we don't have a problem in Negro housing," he said.

Should the University be forced to exercise its right of eminent domain and spread eastward, Enersen contributed, even though it would probably pay for the property, there would be no plan for the relocation of those residents.

Enersen said it was wrong to think it would be horrible for a person to live in an area slated for urban renewal rehabilitation.

"Just the opposite," he said, "it would be a banner day in their lives. We'd give them an opportunity to help themselves."

The 4 speakers maintained there was no hidden profit involved in an urban renewal authority. Barney said Lincoln historically had avoided graft and expressed confidence in its continuing to avoid it.

OUR leaders said they planned to put on several more public programs prior to the election May 15.

Discussion Of City Power Problems Set

Lincoln's retail electric service problems will be aired May 22.

The retail service area subcommittee of the industry-oriented Nebraska Public Power Committee Wednesday set the date for such a meeting in a telegram to Mayor Pat Boyles.

A hearing had been requested last March by George Cook, president of the Lincoln Chamber Industrial Development Corp.

Subcommittee Chairman Ralph Foreman of Columbus invited Boyles and any other city officials whom the mayor may wish to include.

Trussell Invited

Lester Trussell of Beatrice, general manager of the Norris Public Power District, also was invited to the session, Foreman said.

Ray Schacht of Columbus, general manager of Consumers Public Power District, is a member of the 3-man NPPC subcommittee.

The third member is Frank Phelps, Grand Island utilities commissioner. Foreman is manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative, Inc.

Time and site of the Lincoln meeting has not yet been determined.

Meanwhile, Foreman wired NPPC Chairman C. F. Moulton of Omaha requesting a 30-day extension for the submission of the retail service area subcommittee's final report on its activities.

The subcommittee was scheduled to present its findings for action at NPPC's regular monthly meeting May 15.

Foreman said he requested the extension so as to allow consideration of the Lincoln meeting before recommending action in the retail field.

The subcommittee has been seeking voluntary elimination of retail duplication and competition through establishment of defined service areas.

Lincoln is served by both Consumers and the City Water and Light Dept. Norris serves an area surrounding the city.

Tot's Death Not Caused By Drowning

County Attorney Paul Douglas was continuing an investigation into the death of 15-month-old Barbara Ann Eastman after an autopsy Wednesday determined the girl did not drown.

Her body was found Tuesday in a bathtub at her home, 3216 Y. Fire Department efforts to revive her were unsuccessful and she was pronounced dead on arrival at a Lincoln Hospital.

Douglas said the doctor who performed the autopsy was not sure of the exact cause of death, but was positive it did not result from drowning.

Mrs. Darius Williams, the tot's mother told police she had filled the tub with water and stepped out of the bathroom for a minute.

When she returned, Mrs. Williams said, the girl was lying in the tub, beneath the water.

Man Killed At Mead In Crash Of Car, Train

A man was reported killed early Thursday morning in a car-train collision near Mead, according to The Associated Press.

It also was reported that the train involved was a Union Pacific unit.

Safety Patrol headquarters in Lincoln said identification of the victim would be withheld until relatives were notified. He was believed to be an Omahan.

The patrol had no immediate details on the accident.

Swimming Will Cost More, If—

Swimming in municipal pools will cost more this summer — if the City Council approves action taken Wednesday by the Park Board.

The increased fees should provide revenue which could be used for construction of a major new pool in Woods Park, according to Emmett Junge, director of safety and welfare.

"We hope to be able to finance construction of the pool through revenue bonds or some other type, and we could use the price increase to help," Junge said.

The fee proposal would raise prices from 15 cents to 20 cents for swimmers under 12 years of age, and from 25 cents to 35 cents for those over 12.

Season ticket prices would be raised from $5 to $6 for persons under 12, and from $7.50 to $9 for others. A season ticket book includes 50 admissions.

Senate Gives Literacy Test Bill Good Support

...BUT NIXES DEBATE LIMIT

Washington (AP)—The Senate smacked down an effort to limit debate on the Kennedy administration's voter literacy test bill Wednesday, then gave the bill itself a rousing vote of support.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana quickly set the stage for a second try Monday at shutting off debate, even though he conceded there was no chance of success.

President Kennedy told his news conference that if the Senate does not succeed in limiting debate on the bill Monday "then, of course, there is no use in saying you are for it, because it won't ever come up."

Needed Two-Thirds

The effort to invoke cloture —limit debate — was voted down 53 to 43, failing even to win a favorable majority. It needed approval of two-thirds of those voting — 64 votes in this case.

The second test, forced by Mansfield with a move to table the bill, brought a solid endorsement with a 64-33 vote to keep it alive. A vote to table kills a bill.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said the refusal to kill showed that 67 Senators — more than two-thirds of the Senate membership — favored the measure. He included 3 absentees he said favor it.

But Dirksen added the Senate would not vote to limit debate "so we have no choice but to go on."

Mansfield was urged by Sens. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., to continue the debate at least through next week regardless of the vote Monday.

Germans May Have Been Right—

Did The Lusitania Carry Munitions?

Young American Skin Diver Probes Wreck 10 Miles Off Ireland

By DENNIS NEELD

London (AP)—A young American skin diver who plunged 300 feet to the wreck of the Lusitania has uncovered indications the Germans may have been right in saying the liner carried munitions when they sank her 47 years ago.

The famous British passenger ship went to the bottom of the Atlantic on May 7, 1915, 20 minutes after being struck by a German torpedo. Of the 1,950 people on board, 1,198 died

Among the drowned were nearly 200 Americans and the sinking, as much as any other single event, set the mood for U.S. entry two years later into World War I.

Later the Germans claimed they were justified in treating the Lusitania as a ship of war because she was carrying munitions and may have been armed.

Seeks To Clear Mystery

In an attempt to clear up the mystery, 23-year-old John Light of Elmhurst, N.Y., led a team of divers to investigate the wreck 10 miles off the south coast of Ireland.

Underwater shots of his expedition were shown on British television.

Light's findings led him to believe the wreck of the Lusitania has been tampered with. A section of steel deck appears to have been cut away with torches.

Light also photographed a heavy steel door bent like cardboard, sheared from its fastening.

"Everything suggests an explosion on the side away from the torpedo," said BBC commentator Patrick Troughton.

The American diver also located a "flying bridge" projecting from the upturned side of the Lusitania. He found the bridge has two holes roughly driven into it and what looks like a mooring wire shackled in.

Only one other expedition —as far as is known — has ever been down to the wreck. This was a private venture in 1935. It did not use mooring wire such as found by Light.

Unarmed, British Claim

There is no dispute that the ship was designed to carry guns. The British claim. however, it was unarmed when torpedoed. Light found no gun on the foredeck as shown in the ship's plans.

Said BBC television producer Maurice Harvey, who worked with Light on the project:

"The evidence seems to indicate the wreck has been tampered with. Light believes British Admiralty divers have been down to remove the ship's guns.

"Personally, I believe the evidence for this is sketchy and none of the survivors we have interviewed has recalled seeing guns aboard."

There is more evidence that the Lusitania was carrying ammunition. The ship's manifest, said Harvey, showed the cargo included 4,000 cases of small arms ammunition.

At least one survivor remembered hearing 3 explosions. The log of the German submarine U20 states that it fired only one torpedo and that the detonation was followed by a larger, internal explosion.

'Frontier Service To Grow'

RUSH CLARKE SATISFIED

North Platte (AP)—Rush Clarke, special assistant Nebraska attorney general, said Wednesday night that he had conferred in Denver during the day with Lewis Dymond, president of Frontier Airlines, and "had never had such a satisfying conversation in my life."

The talk, Clarke said, was about the differences between the state and Frontier over Nebraska service and Clarke said Dymond gave him complete assurance that Frontier wants to give the best possible service wherever possible to every community that will support it.

"While it is going to take some time to work out details, Nebraska is in for better service than it has ever had," Clarke said.

Clarke said he talked to Dymond on behalf of State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt and that Dymond will meet with Sandstedt as soon as possible.

Clarke said he told Dymond that he could rely on the people of Nebraska giving Frontier the "support we always wanted to give."

JOSE FERRER IS DIVORCED BY MISS CLOONEY

Santa Monica, Calif. (UPI) —Singer Rosemary Clooney divorced Jose Ferrer Wednesday in a brief hearing that contrasted with weeks of wrangling over a financial settlement.

Ferrer

Ferrer said he was still hopeful of a reconciliation — "if she'll let me." But Miss Clooney said "there is no chance of a reconciliation."

The agreement on a financial settlement that will give Miss Clooney $1,500 per month in support, $300 for each of the couple's 5 children came late in the day.

The out-of-court settlement made it possible to avoid further open court airing of the couple's differences that last week included testimony by Miss Clooney that her husband admitted affairs with other women.

Ferrer, 49, also agreed to pay the mortgage—$350 per month—on the $150,000 family home which will be kept in trust for the children. Miss Clooney, 33, also will receive token alimony.

Russians Balk Anew

No A-Test Ban Unless France Accepts, Too

Geneva (AP) — The Soviet Union told the 17-nation disarmament conference Wednesday it will never agree to a nuclear test ban treaty unless France accepts it too.

This categoric assertion, complicating negotiations that have been limited to the Russians, British and Americans, was presented by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin.

Speaking of the French underground blast May 1 in the Sahara, the fifth of France's series, Zorin said:

"There is another power now testing nuclear weapons. This power is refusing to take part in the negotiations and has never said it would adhere to a nuclear test ban treaty.

"The Soviet Union will not sign any treaty on banning nuclear tests unless France is a party to it."

One Western official said: "We are certain that if the Soviets signed a treaty the French would accept it sooner or later."

Jobs At A Peak High

Unemployment Below 4 Million

Washington (AP) — Employment soared last month to a record high of 67,027,000 for April and unemployment dipped below 4 million for the first time this year.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, announcing the gains Wednesday, said this is an "encouraging sign indeed" and stated he was optimistic the nation would reach President Kennedy's goal of not more than 4% unemployment by mid-1963.

"I cannot prophesy that this will happen," he told a news conference, "but I hope the recovery will step up its pace."

He said the economy can and will do better.

Joblessness dropped by 430,000 to 3,952,000 during the month and the number of employed mounted simultaneously by 711,000, making the April employment total of 67,027,000 an increase of 1,293,000 over the number holding jobs a year earlier.

However, improvement was normal for the season and the unemployment rate, which is adjusted to take this into account, remained at 5.5% of the civilian labor force, the same as in March, but well below the 6.9% of a year ago.

Martin To Remain With Opposition On Big-Spending

Washington — Rep. Dave Martin said he will continue to vote consistently "no" in opposition to "socialistic and big-spending programs."

"One of the most difficult jobs, as a congressman, is to stand up and vote 'no' on the various proposals before the House," the Fourth District Republican said.

"It is much easier to go along and vote 'yes' occasionally; but if you keep faith with the fine people you have the honor to represent, and if you keep faith with your fundamental beliefs and with yourself, you have to be consistent.

"I expect to remain steadfast in this regard."

EARL WARREN JR. WORKING TO ELECT GOV. BROWN, DEMO

San Francisco (AP) — Earl Warren Jr., son of the chief justice of the United States, Wednesday was named a vice chairman of a statewide committee to re-elect Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The 32-year-old Sacramento attorney said he did not know just what his job would be in this, his first, venture into politics. He said he would do whatever is required, making speeches or doing organizational work.

The son of the former Republican governor of California changed his affiliation Jan. 31, his 32nd birthday, because "the Republicans have been drifting away from my father's brand of Republicanism and the Democrats are much closer to that position."

Of the one leading candidate seeking the Republican nomination to oppose Brown, Warren said:

"Former Vice President Richard Nixon is an unknown quantity at the present time and I'm sure he will remain that way. It is difficult to tell who or what is motivating him."

SHIRTTAIL REBELLION DYING OUT

Fayetteville, Ind. (AP)—The shirttail rebellion at Fayetteville school was dying out Wednesday after a one-day vacation while the building was used for primary election polls.

The 3 grade-school sons of Mrs. Harry May, who started the revolt against Principal Howard Pace's edict that shirts must be worn tucked in, were still absent but Pace said he heard reports that the family had gone shopping for different shirts.

He also sent home one 8th-grader who persisted in wearing his shirttails on the outside Wednesday.

"He's a good boy," the principal said, "and I told him to go home and think it over."

About 20 boys pulled out their shirttails Monday after the May incident Friday. They stuffed them back in and reported to classes Wednesday.

Hong Kong Bars Chinese Refugees By Thousands

Hong Kong (AP) — Communist China may be aiding the human sea of refugees pouring across its borders into Hong Kong in an effort to embarrass the West and to ease the strain on its own short food stocks.

The flood of Chinese seeking to escape their communist homeland has prompted Hong Kong police and British troops in recent days to round up and send back thousands who slipped across the border or arrived in smugglers' junks. This crown colony no longer can handle the tide of fugitives.

Hong Kong police sources said Wednesday it has become evident that communist border guards have relaxed controls and are not trying to stop the exodus of hungry, miserable Chinese.

A non-refugee arrival from Canton said communist officials have been "extremely liberal in issuing one-way exit permits" since Hong Kong stepped up its efforts to stem the refugee flow.

He said the communist action had two purposes: An attempt to place the blame on Hong Kong for stopping persons from being united with their families in the colony, and getting rid of the "non-productives" — the aged, weak, sick and children — in an attempt to alleviate the serious food shortage in southern China.

Despite major efforts by the colony to handle the waves of refugees, an estimated 300,000 live in shacks and substandard tenements and more than 10,000 spend their nights huddled on sidewalks or stairways.

Hong Kong's population has soared from 600,000 at the end of World War II to nearly 3.5 million.

STOCKS DIP TO YEAR'S LOW

New York (AP) — The Stock Market fell to the lowest level of the year Wednesday. It began the decline early in the session, struggled against the tide at midday and sank lower near the close.

Brokers said that while there was nothing specific on which to blame the slump, they considered the Securities and Exchange Commission investigations and the administration's continued emphasis on a noninflationary economy as discouraging.

An estimated $4.7 billion was erased from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the 3.20 drop in the Associated Press 60-stock average to a 1962 low of 241.60. This was the average's sharpest decline since Jan. 5, when an equal loss was registered.

Omahan Faces Charges In $17,000 Coin Theft

Hastings (AP) — Charges of breaking and entering were filed in Adams County Court Wednesday against John P. Villone, 35, Omaha, in connection with the theft of a $17,000 coin collection from Hastings House of Yesterday and a breakin at the Weber Clinic here.

Villone is presently under 10-year sentence to the Iowa Penitentiary after pleading guilty April 30 to breaking into the Warren Feed Store in Council Bluffs. Villone and Duane A. Donaldson, 34, of Omaha, were caught inside the feed store. Donaldson also drew a 10-year sentence.

Adams County Attorney Don Brock filed the two-count complaint against Villone Wednesday after Sheriff Worthy Wood and Hastings Police Chief George Maul had questioned Villone following his arrest in Council Bluffs.

The officers said he admitted only that he had been in Hastings about the time of the burglaries. Officers said evidence obtained at the scene indicated at least two other persons — possibly a man and woman were involved in the Hastings breakins, and they are still investigating.

W. E. Eigsti, director of the museum, said the coin collection included a rare 1895 Philadelphia mint proof silver dollar worth about $2,500.

He said the burglars cut out some glass block on one side of the building to gain entrance and then cut through the masonry vault wall to reach the coin collection. He said they removed the valuable American collection but left behind a collection of foreign coins which are less marketable.

The Weber clinic breakin, one of two entered the same night, netted almost $500 in cash.

Sophomore's Typing Ability Wins Her Trip To New York

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Wilber — Lois Rezabek doesn't claim to be the perfect secretary — but then she's only a high school sophomore now.

The pert 16-year-old commercial student comes close enough, however, that she's among 10 typists in the nation winning a trip to New York City. Her errorless 82 words-per-minute in a 5 minute regional test won her the right to compete there for a grand prize trip to Sweden.

Lois . . . now New York, Sweden next?

Some 325,000 students originally entered the contest, according to Wilber High School typing instructor L. J. Sanger. The top 500 then competed in 25 regional tests, Lois besting 16 entrants from 4 states—most of them juniors and seniors—in the Omaha competition.

"This is an extraordinary accomplishment of which Mr. Sanger and the entire school are justifiably proud," beamed Supt. Bernard J. Klasek.

Her regional showing also won her a portable typewriter, presented by the contest sponsor. She will fly to New York May 19, accompanied by her instructor.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rezabek, who farm southwest of Wilber, Lois is completing her second year at typing. An honor student, she plans to become a secretary—but already has abandoned hopes of being the perfect one.

"I know better than that," she smiled. "I just try to do my best."

U.S. Explodes A-Device No. 7

Washington (UPI) — The United States detonated a plane-dropped nuclear device over the Pacific Wednesday, the second blast in as many days and the seventh in its new test series.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department said in a joint announcement that the explosion took place near Christmas Island, site of all tests so far.

It was of intermediate yield, presumably a force equal to about 100,000 tons of TNT. Tests of this type are reported to be part of an effort to develop more nuclear punch per pound of weapon.

Golf Course Plans Given

Drawings for a proposed municipal golf course in the Holmes Park area were presented to the Lincoln Park Board Wednesday.

The area is bordered by 56th, 70th, Pioneers Blvd., and Van Dorn. Plans call for an 18-hole, 6,730-yard course to be constructed at an estimated total cost of $240,000.

The money has been requested in the upcoming budget, Jim Ager, parks superintendent, noted. If plans for construction of the course are started this year, it probably would be ready for play by 1965, Ager said.

All-Ag Picnic Will Feature Games, Food

The annual all-ag picnic, one of the final organized students events on the College of Agriculture campus during the current school year, will be held May 15.

The event, which will feature a number of games as well as a picnic meal, is open to all personnel on the ag campus—faculty, students and employees and members of their families—according to Mrs. Sylvia McNiel, ag union director.

Persons attending should assemble on the mall southeast of the Agricultural Engineering Building at 4:30 p.m., Mrs. McNiel said.

The following games are being organized:

Men students — bale stacking, tug-of-war, piggy-back relay.
Women students — 7-legged race, greased pig catching contest, shoe-kicking contest.
Faculty — horseshoe pitching (men); hog calling, (men); husband calling, (women).

A pie-eating contest, which has been a highlight of past ag picnics, is scheduled with three dividions: faculty, men students and women students. Special contests for couples include a bicycle race (bicycle built for two); and egg throwing competition.

Hunt For Plane May Not Resume Until Summer

Reno, Nev. (AP) — Barring new leads, a Civil Air Patrol spokesman said Wednesday, the search for a plane that vanished April 20 with 6 Californians aboard won't resume until summer.

The northern Nevada hunt was suspended May 1 after no trace of the twin-engine Beechcraft Baron was found. The CAP spokesman said planes wold make another attempt after winter snows melted.

Aboard the plane on a flight from Salt Lake City to Woodland, Calif., were pilot Al Hoffman of Fresno; his wife, Amelia; their sons, Tom, 12, and Bruce, 11; Mrs. Carl Claassen of Woodland; and her sister, Mrs. Connie Moore of Walnut Creek.

A former University of Nebraska student, Hoffman was an official of the Pacific Oil Seeds Co., a subsidiary of the Pacific Vegetable Oils Corp. Well known to Nebraskans, Hoffman had helped pioneer research leading to the establishment of safflower as a promising major crop in western Nebraska. He was also called upon as an advisor for the comparatively new soybean crop in the Hastings area.

Bids Opened On Pioneer Project

Havana (UPI) — Government troops killed an anti-Castro guerrilla leader and captured 3 of his men in a gun battle in Pinar del Rio Province, it was reported Wednesday.

The guerrilla chief, identified as Francisco Robaina, was described officially as "an agent of North American imperialism." Two of his 3 followers were wounded.

It was the first official admission of anti-Castro guerrilla activities in the Candelaria range of Pinar del Rio. The province is adjacent to and west of Havana.

Urban Renewal Debate Slated For TV Screen

Channel 12 will broadcast a debate on urban renewal and its related problems Thursday at 8 p.m., KUON-TV officials announced.

Chauncey Barney and Norman Krivosha (Organization for Urban Renewal) and Elinor Brown and Dr. R. C. Olney (Freedom Volunteers) will debate the question: "Resolved: That we should give our City Council the right to create an Urban Renewal Authority."

Rita Shaw will moderate the debate and discussion. Viewers are invited to telephone questions to the panel representing both points of view.

State Must Hustle To Get Interstate By '72, Says Ress

Omaha (AP) — A former state engineer said Wednesday Nebraska will have to get busy if it completes its part of the Interstate Highway network by 1972.

That year is the national goal for putting the 41,000-mile system into operation.

L. N. Ress, now employed by an Omaha engineering firm, made the statement in a talk before the Omaha Real Estate Board.

"Here we are just 10 years away from the time we are supposed to have the highway finished and there is a lot of uncompleted planning in Omaha."

Omaha Interstate planning begun in 1958 has taken 4 years to reach the present state of construction, he noted.

"It is questionable whether Nebraska can defer the final stages of urban construction until the end of the period (1972)," Ress said.

A labor dispute which shut down Omaha highway construction could mean a delay in reaching 1962 objectives, he suggested.

June 25 Hearing For Mid-State

Washington (UPI) — The House Public Works Committee set June 25 as the date for hearing testimony on the proposed Nebraska Mid-State Reclamation District appropriations measure.

Rep. David T. Martin, (R-Neb), said the June hearing before a subcommittee of the House Public Works group would allow ample time for favorable action by the House before adjournment.

The Senate approved authorization of the $81 million project last year following a favorable report by the U.S. Bureau of the Budget.

Find Man's Body Alongside Tracks

Hastings (AP)—The body of a man identified as Vere Douglas Tritch was found early Wednesday along the Burlington Railroad tracks west of Hastings.

County Attorney Don Brock said the man evidently had been in Duluth, Minn., recently, but authorities were unable to say where he was from.

Brock said he found indications the man had been dragged for about two miles by the train after he had become caught.

Chief Justice Candidates Give Views on Court Photography

North Platte (AP) — The 3 candidates for chief justice of the Nebraska Supreme Court have replied to a query by the Nebraska Press Photographers Association's freedom of information committee on their position on Canon 35 of the American Bar Association.

The canon prohibits photography in courtrooms.

Press photographers argue modern photographic equipment and film make possible courtroom photography that will not disturb proceedings, and that the public is entitled to pictorial as well as written courtroom coverage.

District Judge Herbert A. Ronin, Lincoln, wrote the committee: "As a district judge I have endeavored to comply with this requirement and have no choice in the matter. There are certain areas in which I personally would be inclined to give a liberal interpretation, but have refrained from doing so, because of the wording of the canon and the fact that any doubt should be resolved so that I would not be in violation of it.

"Essentially the purpose of the canon is to prevent any interference with the administration of justice within the courtroom, and this of course must be maintained."

"I believe that some of your camera devices would not interfere with the trial," said Judge Ronin in a letter to Wayne Jacobsen, North Platte Telegraph-Bulletin staffer and committee chairman. The judge added he has an open mind on the question.

District Judge Paul W. White, Lincoln, made these points:

—Canon 35 is the law of the state and is incorporated in the ethical code enjoined on all judges.

—"Revision of Canon 35 is now the joint responsibility of a special committee of the American Bar Association and representatives of press, radio and television. Considerable work has been done in this area and there is no indication, as far as I know, that this joint effort is not working towards or resulting in a harmonious resolution of the problem."

—It is important that a uniform standard "sufficiently precise for each individual judge to use and apply be developed."

District Judge C. S. Beck, North Platte, wrote: "The Supreme Court of this state adopted Canon 35, along with the rest of the canons of judicial ethics, and I consider it controlling whatever judicial position I may hold."

Private Economy's Obligation

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Still remembered is a large industrialist's statement of several years ago that the only important thing to him was making a good profit. And still remembered by everyone was the statement of a former cabinet member in the Eisenhower administration that what was good for General Motors was good for the nation. It is this kind of philosophy with which President Kennedy disagrees when he speaks of the responsibility of labor and management to consider the public welfare in price and wage increases.

Is the most important thing to industry really the making of a good profit? There are millions of businessmen, it is hoped, who would, after giving this careful consideration, hesitate to subscribe to it. It sounds a little corny but we all need to remember now and then that money isn't everything. If all industry is interested in is making money and all labor wants is a larger share of the pie, then the system we have is founded on a pretty weak principle. That profit is important, that it is absolutely essential, certainly goes without saying. Nor can anyone argue the merits of high wage rates.

The Almighty Dollar

But we make a mistake any time we try to put something into a straight jacket. When we get too narrow in our opinions, too prejudiced in our outlook and too preoccupied in our thinking, we are in danger of making a serious mistake. This is what happens to the rabbit killed along the highway. He is so anxious to get to the other side, even for no good reason, that he forgets about the onrushing car and is killed beneath its wheels.

The child, consumed with curiosity, will stick its head into a hole from which it cannot withdraw. The adult, so consumed with the desire for goods, will make purchases beyond his means and find himself in financial difficulties. The individual, so bent upon the pursuit of his objectives, will work himself right into a heart attack.

Why do all of these things happen? They happen because men and women lose their sense of perspective, their sense of values. They forget even why they are doing what they are doing and substitute a set of means for an end in themselves. Why is it that we have a free enterprise system of economics? We have it because this is the best guarantee we know of for a full and rewarding way of life. It provides mankind with the highest standard of living which the world has ever known. It permits him freedom of choice, freedom from slavery and freedom of a great deal of time. It gives him health and happiness, it challenges him and it builds for the future.

Making money is a means to these ends, not an end in itself. If it were an end in itself, all we would have to do is print a huge batch of the stuff and pass it out on the street corner. But you can't eat money, you can't talk to it and you can't enjoy its company. Everyone knows this but often seems to give it little thought. The industrialist who is so eaten up with the desire for profits that he can't see and appreciate the human side of his endeavors is missing the biggest part of his rewards. The laboring man who is so dedicated to the dollar that he doesn't give a hoot about the job he is doing and the contribution he is making to the world is living only half a life at best.

The industrialist and laboring man so short-sighted are no different than one bent on suicide—they must be prevented if at all possible from destroying themselves. For by destroying themselves, they destroy things for a great many other people. Does the industrialist not have any responsibility to the people he employs? Does the employe have no responsibilities to his employer and does none of them have any public responsibility?

Under the law of the land, they do not but under the spirit and principle on which that law is founded, they most certainly do have such a responsibility and it is an all-important one. If they had no such responsibility, the system we have wouldn't be worth a plug nickel. What sort of a city, state and nation would this be if everyone did nothing more than the law demanded?

It would be the most fantastically degraded state of being that ever existed. Even so-called uncivilized races would have as edge on us. We, in fact, would never be at the point we now are and there simply never would have been any United States of America. Society dictates its own responsibilities according to the feelings of a majority of those within it and there is general conformance, with agreement, to these dictates. Industry and labor are being ridiculous when they say they have no public responsibility or that profits and higher wages are all that count with them.

Not A Pretty Sight

Their responsibility beyond this point is so great and so essential that it is equally ridiculous to say the President of the United States has no rights or duties in the matter. If he has no right to intervene when there is demonstrated a disregard for a fundamental public responsibility, then he would be, as Kennedy has phrased it, "the honorary chairman of a great fraternal organization."

"We've Flunked Out In Math Already"

Withholding Objection Curious

The nation's lawmakers are finding a curious objection to the proposed change in income tax laws which would call for what amounts to a withholding tax on dividends and interest. The lawmakers are discovering that many people seem to think this would be a new kind of tax. Thus, they are failing to report dividends and interest as income which they are required to do now under the law.

This substantiates government claims that it is losing millions of dollars in taxes on unreported income from dividends and interest. If the law passes, there is no doubt that many people will be trying to establish the impression that they believed it would be a new law. In this way they could have some excuse, ignorance, for failure to report this income in the past.

This failure to report in the past is probably the real reason behind the vast majority of objections. Those who have failed to report such income in the past have two things to worry about—paying on the income in the future and explaining their failure to pay on it in the past. The Internal Revenue Service is likely to have its eyes opened if this change in the law is eventually made.

It will be very busy asking millions of people how come they have thousands of dollars in stocks and bonds as of now but had none a year ago. They will be asked to explain such sudden accumulations of wealth. Obviously, many of them will not be able to explain it and possibly will face even criminal charges on tax evasion. Ignorance, or the plea of it, has never held much water in tax cases.

A Little Disappointing

In many ways the visit of Gherman Titov, the Russian cosmonaut, has been a pleasant one. He has proved a correct guest with his American counterpart, John Glenn. His pretty wife with a ready smile appeals to Americans. And this country takes to heart his earnest belief that modern war is unthinkable. And if he has anything to tell the world as well as his countrymen it is that. Like Glenn he has been in orbit. He knows that man can now cruise at will in outer space and there is no target that could escape his destructive hand, nor as yet any known means to defend against such a war. It would not be a contest but an exercise in extermination with both sides engaging in it.

But it is regrettable to say that Titov is not making a lasting impression nor making the best of his opportunities. He is clearly a thoroughly indoctrinated young communist and he lets that obscure his public relations opportunities. One grants that his life under communism has been particularly rewarding and in that respect is not typical. That puts a special responsibility upon him, but he is not in character.

His most recent faux pas occurred after he had visited an American supermarket. While his wife took delight in shopping the store he wound it up with a typical commie observation. He said "This is the place where Americans worship."

That was as bad as his reaction to American affluence. He complained about too many automobiles on the street. Those remarks and their grim significance will remain with us longer than his better statements.

Henry Thoreau

Those who revere the memory of Henry Thoreau made their way the other day to Sleepy Hollow Cemetery on the outskirts of Concord, Massachusetts, and held exercises at that part of the ancient burying ground called "Author's Ridge." The occasion was the 100th anniversary of the death of Thoreau.

Henry Thoreau was a contemporary of Ralph Waldo Emerson, his neighbor, and of many other memorable characters who thrived in the Boston area when that city was the seat of American culture.

Thoreau is best remembered for his book, "Walden", named after a rustic pond where he spent more than a year living in rustic simplicity. He was a philosophical foe of the frenzied, materialistic life, and made a good case for mental and spiritual tranquility. His appeal is still great for he represented the inner peace that Americans yearn for, but are too attached to the flesh pots to win. They are also too menaced by a frentic and dangerous world to dare a life of withdrawal. His less enthusiastic readers hold that he only proved he could be an exception so long as others labored at the work-a-day tasks in order to protect him in his experiment. Nevertheless, his philosophy made a deep impression on Mahatma Ghandi who led India to independence by his doctrine of passive resistence.

In that respect he seemed to be many things to many people. Certainly America took a leaf out of his book in coming to the realization that man had approximated his limits in the physical sense. But there remained for him the exciting and almost limitless development in terms of mind and soul. We have now crossed the threshold into that strange and awesome realm.

NY Demos Talk Of Farley Draft

WASHINGTON — Last week, President Kennedy telephontd Big Jim Farley, famous for signing letters in green ink and for promoting FDR's first election. He suggested that Big Jim consider running for governor of New York against GOP Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Jim Farley, now 74, but just as active as when he carried a suitcase all over the USA in 1932 wooing delegates for Roosevelt, was not at all unhappy about Kennedy's call. Over the telephone he was appreciative, but noncommittal.

The President was quite aware of the fact that it was not up to him to pick the standard bearer for the Democratic party in New York, but he told Farley that he ought seriously to consider the matter and keep himself in readiness for a draft.

Big Jim didn't say so, but he is not averse to being wooed. Ever since he broke with Roosevelt over his ambition to be FDR's vice-presidential running mate, Jim has been politically restless. He has worked at selling Coca-Cola abroad and has done a terrific job. However, the smell of the political ring brings all the nostalgic yearnings that the smell of sawdust does to an old circus performer.

Meanwhile, the New York liberals, once down on Farley, have changed their tune. Age has mellowed both sides. Mrs. Roosevelt, a power behind the liberals, once threw her weight to Henry Wallace against Farley at the crucial 1940 Democratic Convention in Chicago. Today she and Farley are friendly.

Kennedy, who plans a long way in advance, began considering a candidate to run against Governor Rockefeller even before inauguration day. To this end, he wanted Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., made secretary of the Navy, as a buildup for the governor's race. Secretary of Defense McNamara, a Republican, spiked this, though not for political reasons. He did not feel happy about FDR, Jr., as part of his defense setup.

Today, Rockefeller, despite his divorce, is running fairly strong. Some New York Democrats don't believe he can be beaten. But they agree that Farley, a man with a reputation upstate as well as in New York City, might be able to do it.

Note —After Vice President Johnson agreed to fly out to Seattle to dedicate the opening of the fair's glamorous space exhibit today (May 10), he found that this was New York day at the fair and that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was to be there also. LBJ is just as anxious to defeat Rocky for governor as JFK is; so was not happy about the simultaneous appearances.

Labor Also Told To Hold The Line

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy found the atmosphere a lot warmer at the United Automobile Workers' convention than he did at the United States Chamber of Commerce.

To each he addressed substantially the same message, which was that the national interest must be preserved in negotiations between labor and management. To each he promised that the administration did not seek police powers over wages and prices.

UAW President Walter Reuther joined in the amenities with assurances to the press that the union joined "wholeheartedly" with the President's efforts to achieve price stability. The President took pains in turn to point to the many places that his goals and UAW policy coincided.

The harmony no doubt reflected in part the members' keen sense of identity with the Kennedy victory in 1960. He acknowledged handsomely his labor support and said he was continuing to count on it.

☆ ☆ ☆

The scene now shifts to the Homestead in Virginia, where the New Frontier outcasts of Poker Flat, the business council, is about to meet. This was known as the Business Advisory Council in the halcyon days when it enjoyed privileges of entree and information at the Commerce Department.

Ordered by by Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges to enlarge its membership and democratize its ways, the council changed its name and decided to carry on in the tradition of rugged individualism. But the President is persistent.

He is sending Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, a Republican, Under Secretary of State George Ball and Walter Heller, chairman of his Economic Advisory Council, to the Homestead with fuller explanations and olive branches. How they are received by what amounts to the establishment of our industrial society will be another vital chapter in the struggle to hold down inflation.

Nor can a labor showdown be long averted; the leaflets are fluttering down now at the factory gates in some sectors of the aircraft and missile industries, which share about $15 billion of the defense budget. This is fully as sticky a ball of wax as the steel problem.

A wage or price rise is inadmissible if the country is to get the same amount of misssiles for the same money. Any effort by labor to force a redivision of present profits in their favor would provoke a bitter contest. The administration—or Congress—is unlikely to concede that it can do with fewer missiles at a higher price.

Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg, who is sitting on this volcano, is restrained in his discussions of what might happen. All he says is that a strike is "unthinkable."

The President is almost agonizingly aware that the old cliches simply will not do in the face of such complicated aspects of the cold war. His sense of it comes out repeatedly, as when he asked the UAW if anyone really thought this nation was not in a kind of war and in danger.

Our Own Backyard

Ansley, Neb.

One evening at dusk I took a long ride with friends to Broken Bow. We relaxed and sat back and enjoyed the cool of the evening. We visited and sang as we went on our way. The farm homes sat in solemn solitude by the roadsides. Everything looked so green and peaceful.

When we got within several miles of Broken Bow, the cliffs and high banks were beautiful at dusk.

Why should people go to other states with such pretty sunsets and scenery in good old Nebraska?

Farm Income

Lincoln, Neb.

There can be no denying the economic value of education. Both academic instruction and job skill training have proven their worth.

There is, however, no surer way of wasting the public money than to train persons for jobs that do not exist. Besides the wasted money, there is also the vain hope aroused and the ultimate frustration of those who invest their time and effort in training for a job that does not develop.

A telling example was the on-the-job training given young farmers back from their stretch in the armed forces. No criticism of the program or of the efforts of the trainees is implied but hundreds of young men lost the struggle to establish themselves in farming because farm income was not adequate and went from bad to worse even while they were in training.

The most obvious way to correct the condition would be to restore to the farmer and thereby to the economy of the state the income that was taken away in the past eight years. Although reduced in numbers, farmers are now producing more than in 1952. Nevertheless, the net farm income of the state has declined $100 million per year. The restoration of this income through improved farm prices would prove a powerful stimulus to the economy of the state and generate payrolls and job opportunities that would warrant job education. There is no reason to believe that training for specific skills without an economic basis for their use will of itself generate employment. In fact, there are today in Nebraska thousands of people working in jobs at less than their highest skill, primarily because more productive opportunities do not exist.

There is no greater challenge to the candidate for public office in the present campaign than the challenge of correcting realistically and adequately the farm income situation.

Medical Care

Hastings, Neb.

Your editorial of May 5 entitled "Issues Not Yet Clear" requires an answer in an effort to correct some confusion in the broad philosophy of state versus federal government control, specifically in the rendering of health care to the aged, and to correct the apparently mistaken concept that the House of Delegates of the Nebraska State Medical Association attempted in any way to link health education in schools with federal intervention in medical problems and finally also to correct the impression that plans toward these two ends constituted the major activities of the current session.

At the outset, let me make it crystal clear that the issue confronting the good citizens of Nebraska is not health care for the aged. Every physician agrees that all of our elderly should receive all the health care they need, when they need it. The real issue is how health care for our aged can best be provided; whether the program should be voluntary or compulsory.

The Nebraska State Medical Association is on record as opposing the King-Anderson (H.R. 4222) bill. It basically provides;

(1) Social Security financing.

(2). Federal administration.

(3) Benefits for Social Security beneficiaries only.

(4) A limited range of benefits—mostly hospital and nursing home care.

It is a compulsory, federal government controlled plan which would place a third party between the patient and the physician. ("It is hardly lack of due process for the government to regulate that which is subsidized."—Justice Robert H. Jackson)

It is not an insurance; it is a federal tax so declared by the Supreme Court! It is not free! The patient would pay $10 a day for the first nine hospital days, plus the physician's fee. It is expensive! If the government cost estimates are correct, the total Social Security taxes paid by employer and employe in 1963 would rise from $288 to $403 annually—an increase of 39.9 per cent from 1961.

By 1968, by the most conservative figures, without additional benefits now provided, they would rise to $507 annually—up 76 per cent from 1961. The foregoing figures are government estimates. Private actuaries estimate that by 1968, the tax would be $599 annually—that is, a 94 per cent increase over 1961.

It would limit the patient's free choice of hospital and physical. (The hospitals and nursing homes must be approved by a federal agency.)

It is unnecessary. Of the 17 million American people over age 65, nine million were covered by some form of voluntary health insurance in 1961 and the percentage is rapidly increasing. One and a half million people over 65 now receive cash benefits from corporate pension plans. One million people over 65 receive annuities privately purchased, and four million people over 65 years of age are employed. It would give the four million people over 65 years of age receiving Social Security benefits limited health care whether they needed it or not.

It then is a plan which will pay for many who are wealthy and at the same time leave out millions who are in need. The program would inevitably be expanded and lead to the inclusion of more and more health benefits with ever-increasing costs.

It would ultimately socialize medicine—a system that has resulted in the deterioration of medical care wherever it has been tried.

Physicians oppose the King-Anderson bill because it would adversely affect the practice of medicine, the welfare of the patients and the future of medical care in this country. They want to continue to provide the American people with the best health care in the world.

The Kerr-Mills plan would be locally controlled and locally administered. It would furnish a wide range of benefits and limit the medical care to the needy under a system of matching federal funds — long an established principle in this country and currently applied to Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, Aid to the Blind and Maternal and Child Welfare. It enables the individual state to guarantee to every aged citizen who needs help the health care he requires. Each state can pattern the program to meet its own particular needs.

It would seem only reasonable that the Nebraska State Legislature would see the logic and economy of this approach, once they became familiar with the facts and issues involved.

As an entirely separate item of business, the House of Delegates of the Nebraska State Medical Association created a committee to study health education in secondary schools and colleges. The American Medical Association has had such a department for 51 years. Because it was felt that such a- program was not being fully utilized, the House of Delegates of the American Medical Association in June, 1960, reaffirmed its position that health education should be an integral and basic part of the school and college curriculum and encouraged state and local medical societies to work with appropriate health and education officials and agencies in their communities to achieve this end. We as a medical association should be interested in seeing that school officials have the necessary help in implementing and upgrading such programs.

An important function of such a committee is to conduct a survey along with educators to determine the extent of such needs, as well as to determine methods to better prepare those who are to teach health education to our citizens of tomorrow and to encourage them to engage in self-analysis of their teaching programs. Other important fields which need further study in our school system are juvenile delinquency, alcoholism, rehabilitation, mental health and public health generally. Accordingly, a committee is being appointed which will make itself available to assist educators and school officials in this complex and rapidly changing and expanding field.

Finally, let me state that the Nebraska State Medical Association through its Trustees, Councilors and House of Delegates in its deliberation took action on many issues of policy in an effort to upgrade the quality of medical care other than the matters of health care for the aged and health education in secondary schools and colleges. In addition, it conducted a highly successful three-day scientific session.

O. A. KOSTAL, M.D.
President,
Nebraska State Medical Assoc.

Editor's Note: The increases in Social Security attested to in the above letter obviously apply to the total program, including retirement benefits as well as proposed medical payments. The increase in Social Security costs as a result of medical care would be only one-fourth per cent for employer and employe—a total increase of 12.5 per cent, not 39.9 per cent, 76 per cent or 94 per cent.

Secondly, who needs coverage is a matter of opinion but it is unquestioned by any authority we know of that the King-Anderson bill would cover many more people than would the Kerr-Mills bill supported by the American Medical Association.

Thirdly, the Social Security approach is not compulsory. No one has to accept medical payments under Social Security if he doesn't want to. Hospitals and nursing homes used under the plan would have to be approved by the government but only to protect the individual from fraud and the individual would have his choice of hospitals and nursing homes that were approved.

The claim of socialized medicine and the "guarantee" of help to those who need it through the Kerr-Mills bill are matters of opinion with which we simply disagree and on which every person must decide for himself.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

No Payola—Not Even Kumquats From His Honor

By ROBERT PETERSON

It's getting so a columnist can't praise anything without someone wondering if there's payola involved. When I gave space to an Arizona builder extolling the merits of his state as a retirement paradise, I got a note from a Californian asking whether he paid off in cash or real estate.

In California last fall I wrote about various elders whose dreams were coming true on the West Coast, and a snide note arrived from a Floridian suggesting that the Chamber of Commerce must have wined me nightly.

And in the wake of my recent interview with the Governor of Florida, I got a sarcastic note from a loyal Arizonan who said, "I suppose they gave you a prefab house with a palm tree out front to plug that overrated peninsula."

After these inferences of journalistic bounty it's a little embarrassing to report that reputable writers never accept gratuities for kind words. Oh, you get an occasional box of candy or a ball point pen. And they say the Governor of the Sunshine State sometimes sends oranges to friendly columnists. But I didn't rate a kumquat from his honor—just a note of thanks and a new brochure entitled, "Come to Sunny Florida."

An unemployed accountant of 55 was in my office this morning complaining that he couldn't find work. And after a few minutes it was clear why no one was interested. He was literally throbbing with hate as he recited a string of abuses endured during his three decade sojourn with the firm which finally canned him.

His wrath went something like this, "And then after the war they got a new president who didn't know a debit from a credit . . . he took an instant dislike to me and sent me to an office across town where they gave me the dirty job of checking tax deductions, even though I've always worked on payrolls . . . they had me working 6 years without a raise, and then promoted someone's kid brother over my head . . ."

Dwelling on old resentments is emotionally exhausting. It can affect your health. It doesn't impress anyone who might be considering you for a job. And it doesn't get you anywhere but down. Bitterness brings only pain and defeat in its wake, and the only practical thing to do is strike the past with its pains and injustices from your consciousness and try and fashion something better in the years to come.

"A good cook will never starve," says a French maxim. And the truth of the saving is shown in Uncle Sam's journal "Aging" which recently carried a piece concerning Mrs. Pearl Wilkinson, a farm woman in her 80's, who spends afternoons baking succulent homemade bread, chocolate cakes, and cookies. Then she's up at dawn daily to bring her goods to the Farm Women's Market in Bethesda, Md., where she never has any difficulty selling her tasty products.

Northern Gas Co. Settlement OKd

Washington (AP) — The Power Commission has approved a settlement which fixed the demand and commodity natural gas rate levels of Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha.

The changes are intended to return to the company the cost of service approved by the commission last December in a rate case settlement, the commission said.

The December settlement required the company to reduce by about $3.3 million a year a $9.25 million annual wholesale increase which was in effect subject to refund.

1,200 Requests For Jobs Filled By NU Students

Richard D. Mace, coordinator of the Student Employment Service at the University of Nebraska, reported Thursday that in the past year over 1200 requests from employers have been filled with students desiring work.

When classes are dismissed in June, his office will have processed from 2,100 to 2,500 requests for jobs from University students, Mace said.

In the past the University has found positions for students in such widely diversified fields as the Soil Conservation Service, a radiation measurement company, electrical wiring contractors, and nursing homes. Coeds with beauty titles are in demand for guest appearances at store openings and other events.

Kennedy Attacks Tax Untruths

statement was an outgrowth of private urging by Senate Democratic leaders who are concerned about a huge mail campaign against the withholding tax. Kennedy said he wanted to set the record straight, because mail reaching the White House and the Senate indicates "a great number of people have been badly misinformed" about the proposal to withhold taxes on income received in the form of interest and dividends.

Paid Ads

Kennedy went on to say that paid advertisements and circulars financed by savings and loan associations, by banks and others, have led many people to believe:

"One, that this is a new tax or a tax increase;

"Two, that it will take money unjustly from honest taxpayers;

"Three, that it will create a mountain of red tape costing more than it will bring in;

"And, 4, that it will harm the elderly, the widows and orphans, and others in low income.

"Not a single one of these charges is true.

Same Fashion

"This bill simply proposed to collect taxes on dividends and interest income in the same fashion that it has been collected on our wages and salaries for the past 19 years . . .

"The only ones affected will be those individuals who are not now paying taxes they owe on this income, either through neglect or for some other reason.

"That is tax evasion, tax evasion of $800 million a year which must be made up by other taxpayers who pay their taxes."

Against Kennedy

The administration figures the withholding tax would capture $650 million of the $800 million. The provision is the biggest revenue-producing device in the tax bill which has passed the House and now is pending in the Senate Finance Committee. The committee is believed at the moment to be lined up by a small margin against the Kennedy withholding plan.

Nobody had any questions on the President's withholding tax statement and the news conference went on to other items:

Laos — the President said this country is concerned about the breaking of the cease-fire there. He said this government believes negotiations should continue far more quickly than they have. It's the delay, he said, that helps create incidents similar to those in the last few days. A peaceful solution, the President said, has been the United States' concern for many months.

Wage increases — the President was told that Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers had first said that he thought there should be some changes in the administration's formula, but later had issued a statement which seemed to agree with it. Had the administration been in touch with Reuther? Oh, yes, the President said. He had read the second statement, Kennedy said, and he liked it.

President Fences

Businessmen — the President fenced a bit with a newsman about the well publicized quotation he was said to have attributed to his father about all businessmen being sons of bitches. The newsman, without quoting the statement, said he was sure Kennedy knew which one he means. Amid laughter, the President said, "You wouldn't want to identify it?"

He said the statement attributed to his father, "expressing himself strongly to me" was inaccurate. He said the inaccuracy was in making the elder Kennedy's criticism apply to all businessmen. "He was a businessman himself," Kennedy said, and necessarily this quotation was wrong. He said Joseph Kennedy was talking about steel men. "He had once worked in the steel industry," the President said. And he said his father had made a remark "which seemed appropriate to me that night." This drew a laugh and Kennedy said "that is past now" and called for the next question.

Youth Chucks Traditions That Made America Great—Dr. Bishop

Chicago (AP)—A brotherhood campaigner declared Wednesday that the nation's youth has responded to a half century of efforts to help them by chucking away the traditions that made America great.

Dr. Leo K. Bishop, vice president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, said the "whole base of our moral and spiritual values has been shifted."

And he contended this has happened because adult Americans "have failed to interpret the meaning of democracy, freedom, equality."

Dr. Bishop, an ordained minister, survived an attack on his life by a gang of Negro youths bent on robbery two years ago. He was shot in the groin and across the back with a .32 caliber pistol as he and his wife were walking home from a neighborhood betterment society meeting.

He made his observations on youth Wednesday in a hard-hitting speech to the annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

Bishop, who was named "Chicagoan of the year" in 1960 by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said that "teacher, counselor, parent and minister stand today, in the presence of modern youth, with a sense of guilt, inadequacy and fear for the future."

Bishop said America "put youth at the very center of its society for the last 50 years." But he added that "today's youth do not cherish the heritage which is being handed on to them."

Bishop said in his prepared speech:

"America's youth do not hold nor defend the basic political concepts and values we know as 'the American way.'

"When one examines the economic concepts and values of today's youth, he realizes that the treasured values of thrift, industry, and initiative are no part of today's youth. Extravagance, once considered a vice, now has become a virtue. Hard work and aggressiveness has given way to 'take it easy.' The desire for security and comfort has replaced the traditional drive for independence.

DR. LEO K. BISHOP

"When we look at the human relations attitudes that are a part of today's youth, we are shocked to learn that very early our young people are indoctrinated in hostility, suspicion and prejudice. By the time they reach the high school classroom, they have already strange feelings about Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Negroes, foreign-born, or other groups different from their own. There is a universal negative image of those who are outside their own particular group.

"When we examine the use of money, honesty in the classroom, or integrity in employment, we become aware that suddenly the whole base of our moral and spiritual values has shifted."

He asked how the youth of the nation may be reacquainted with the American tradition and added:

"Perhaps we should start by admitting that our youth are as strong, and as weak, as intelligent and as frivolous, as serious and as silly, as disciplined and as wild, as religious and as wordly, as we have made them."

"We have failed to interpret the meaning of democracy, freedom, equality . . .

"We have been afraid of flag-waving, drum-beating patriotism. We have looked with mild tolerance on pious and sentimental religion and have turned our backs on profound spiritual and ethical values."

Journalism School Said Among Top

The University of Nebraska School of Journalism has been informed that it is in the top running of the William Randolph Hearst Foundation journalism competition among 45 accredited schools in the nation.

The award is one of the most coveted honors that can go to a journalism school and grants of more than $5,000 for participating students and the University hang on the outcome.

The Universities of Nebraska and Kansas are leading the competition, for which students have written newspaper stories and articles for publication. The over-all winner will be announced next week.

The brunt of the student competition writing at the University of Nebraska School of Journalism during the year was done by: Hal Brown of Waterbury, a senior; Steven Lough of Albion, a senior; Judy Harrington of Lincoln, a junior; and Wendy Rogers of Fremont, a sophomore.

The student's articles, initiated and planned under a unique "depth reporting" class taught by Associate Professor Neale Copple, has already brought the students national recognition for their efforts.

Recognition and money have also gone to the School of Journalism from the Wall Street Journal ($5,000) and the Reader's Digest ($1,000) for initiating and carrying on the depth reporting class. It is among the first of its kind in the nation's schools and a part of the academic discipline of the journalism curriculum which has served to inspire and direct the energy and efforts of the students in the competition.

The stories written by the students have appeared in many Nebraska newspapers as well as very large circulation national newspapers and have dealt with Nebraska subjects.

Close estimates by School of Journalism staff members place the total readership of the stories at over 4 million readers in the U. S.

The experience and records of individual winners to date:

Harold (Hal) Brown, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Von A. Brown of Waterbury; Hal has worked part time with the Fremont Guide and Tribune and Lincoln Star. He served a summer internship with United Press International, and is a former Daily Nebraskan Sports Editor. Hal is the winner of three national A winner of three national monthly first place honors and 6th in the Hearst competition.

Wendy Rogers, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers of Fremont; she is a Regents scholar with part-time experience with the Lincoln Journal, McCook Gazette, Fremont Guide and Tribune, and the Central Kansas Television Company; Wendy is a 6th place winner in one month's competition.

Judy Harrington, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ayres of Lincoln; she is a Lincoln Journal and Harry T. Dobbins scholarship winner and has had part-time experience with the Lincoln Journal. Judy has placed third, in the February national competition and tied for first in March.

Steven Lough, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lough of Albion; part-time experience with the Lincoln Journal, several years in the editorial and back shop departments of the Albion News (of which his father is publisher and editor). Steven placed 7th in the April national competition.

UAW Elects Reuther To 9th Term

Atlantic City, N.J. (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union convention Wednesday elected Walter P. Reuther by acclamation to a 9th straight term as the million-member union's international president.

Reuther, 53, was elected for two years without opposition after a roaring, 20-minute demonstration by the 2,800 delegates. Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey and other officers were also re-elected to two-year terms.

The convention elected 3 new at-large members to the 26-man executive board: Ken Bannon, Douglas Fraser and Nelson (Jack) Edwards, all of Detroit. Edwards is the first Negro to serve in a UAW national office.

Delegates adopted resolutions pledging renewed efforts to organize office and other white collar workers and other nonunion groups, particularly in the South. The resolutions spoke particularly of a need for organizing runaway shops, or plants that move from union to nonunion areas.

It was stated that "tax-hungry towns in the South continue to entice plants" to move from high wage areas with special tax and other inducements under conditions aimed at discouraging workers from trying to organize unions.

SEAWEED INVASION

A large section of the beach sands at Miami Beach, Fla., was covered by kelp and seaweed, the deposit being the worst in several years. An undercurrent in the ocean churns up the bottom and deposits the brown vine-like sea plant onto the clean sands to the distress of bathers.

Schuetz Claims Weaver Running 3rd

Rep. Ralph Beermann's state representative Wednesday said that Rep. Phil Weaver's campaign tactics have now pushed Weaver into third place in the Republican First District congressional race.

"In touring the First District I have witnessed an increasing shift in the attitude of the voters who resent the campaign tactics of the Weaver-Quinn forces," Jack Schuetz of Lincoln said.

"Because of the tactics, I find that the choice for the First District seat now is between Congressman Ralph Beermann and Robert Harrison — with Weaver a third-rate power."

Schuetz spoke before a Friends-of-Beermann meeting in South Sioux City.

Poll Refused

Meanwhile, the chairman of the board of trustees of Americans for Constitutional Action declined to poll ACA members on 3 issues as requested by Weaver's southern district chairman, Donn Davis of Lincoln.

ACA had earlier endorsed Beermann for the nomination.

In reply, Davis asked a poll of ACA members on 3 issues "in which Nebraskans are interested." They included appropriations for space exploration, the Colorado River transmission line project and a north-south Interstate Highway connection for Nebraska.

Admiral Ben Moreell replied in a telegram from Washington:

"ACA does not propose to become involved in pragmatism with campaign managers of candidates. It is the established policy of ACA's eminent board of trustees to favor and support the candidate who has the better conservative voting record."

Schuetz declared at South Sioux City:

"We have diligently tried to conduct our campaign on a high plane, but the forces of Phil Weaver and John Quinn have not.

'Discredit'

"They have unsuccessfully attempted to discredit the Republican Party, Founders Day and Congressman Beermann himself.

"Now they have switched to having Donn Davis of Lincoln making all the statements, a man who tried to make a deal with me earlier in the campaign to get me less active in the Republican Party."

Weaver's absentee rate from Congress has been "phenomenal," Schuetz said. "It's time Nebraska got an on-the-job congressman for the First District."

Cole Pleads Guilty To Rape Charge

Omaha (AP) — Robert Perry Cole Jr., 28, of 704 N. 22nd St., Lincoln, has pleaded guilty to rape in connection with an attack on a 59-year-old Omaha woman.

District Judge Robert Smith is withholding sentence pending a presentence investigation, Deputy County Attorney William Ryan said Wednesday.

Cole admitted the raping of the semi-invalid woman on Omaha's north side and the beating of her husband Saturday night, police said.

The woman and her husband, 61, were treated and hospitalized overnight.

Wise Men System

Katmandu, Nepal (AP) — King Mahendra has named a 6-man commission to draft a constitution based on the system of Panchayats — rule by elected village elders pyramiding toward the throne. The king scrapped the first popularly elected government and Parliament in December, 1960, and set up the wise men system.

Franco Foes Trying To Make Hay Of Strike

Maarid (UPI) — Opponents of the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco Wednesday sought to make political capital of the worst labor crisis faced by Spain since the civil war.

In spite of warnings of stern government measures, the strike was reported spreading.

In related developments, an American student was ordered expelled for taking part in sympathy demonstrations for the strikers and about 80 other students were reported staging a hunger strike to protest jail sentences and fines meted out for pro-striker demonstrations.

Reports said new small-scale strikes are under way in such widely-separated points as Barcelona, Leon and the Canary Islands. In at least two other cities — Bilbao and Beasain — more workers went on strike.

It was admitted officially that more than 60,000 workers were out, although well-informed sources estimated that more than 80,000 were taking part in the walkouts to enforce demands for wage increases.

Only in Asturias, where a month-long-strike by miners touched off the wave of walkouts elsewhere, did there appear to be any major break. An official announcement from the city of Oviedo said that 30,000 of 60,000 striking miners resumed work Wednesday.

In Madrid, a self-styled "syndical opposition" distributed leaflets calling for a one-day general strike Friday to support demands for "decent salaries and liberty."

"Now is the hour to unite,

GEN. FRANCISCO FRANCO

Catholics, communists, socialists, liberals, anarchists and those without any affiliation," the leaflets said.

A group of Spanish intellectuals issued an open letter to "friends and colleagues," calling on them to urge the Franco regime to inform the people of the strikers grievances and to legalize strikes.

The letter was signed by 24 prominent Spaniards, including educators, authors and poets.

Put That 'Hidden Money' In Bonds

As a part of a national move, the Lancaster County Sheriff's office has launched a campaign to get "hidden money" out of secret places in homes and into United States Savings Bonds.

"We want everyone to recognize that the practice of keeping sizeable sums of money hidden in homes is dangerous to the owner and to any member of his family," Sheriff Merle Karnopp said.

He pointed out that it invites prowlers and thieves, "always with the danger of serious bodily injury or death to anyone who interferes."

The money may also be burned or lost without any chance of recovery, Karnopp added.

The campaign urges that U.S. Savings Bonds are a "safe, sure" place for keeping money and nets the owner some interest which is not subject to local or state taxes.

Forty-two cents of every dollar spent by consumers today is for services, as compared with 37c just five years ago. This rise in the use of services is reflected in the amount of newspaper advertising done by professional and service people. In 1960, they invested 25% more than they did in 1959.

Three NU Students Will Be Honored

Three University of Nebraska advertising journalism students will be guests of the St. Louis Advertising Club at its 17th annual College Awards program May 13-15.

The Nebraska students to be honored are Pam Holloway of Grand Island, Paula Warner of Columbus and Iraj Azimzadeh of Tehran, Iran.

Miss Holloway is the new business manager of the Cornhusker Yearbook and is a past business manager of the Summer Nebraskan. Miss Warner has worked part-time during the past two years as a copywriter for Gold's of Nebraska. Both girls are officers of the campus chapter of Gamma Alpha Chi, professional advertising fraternity for women. Azimzadeh is the first foreign student to complete the major in advertising journalism at the University.

Delegates from 10 professionally-accredited journalism schools in Missouri and bordering states have been invited to attend, Dr. William E. Hall, NU J-School director, said. Case histories and advertising result stories are planned for day-time seminars, Dr. Hall said. A special Advertising Club luncheon in honor of the students will climax the program.

This is the fourth year the Nebraska School of Journalism has participated, Dr. Hall said. Keith Blackledge, J-School faculty member, will accompany the students.

Advertisers invested $3,702,800,000 in newspapers last year—more than the total they spent for television, radio, magazine, and outdoor advertising combined.

Fiery Crash Fatal To Six

Limestone, Maine (AP)—The fiery crash of an Air Force jet tanker plane shortly after takeoff Wednesday took the lives of all 6 men aboard.

The big KC135 took off from Loring Air Force Base here, cleared a swampy area, then crashed in a wooded section about 1,500 feet north of the end of the runway.

Air Force officials said the plane exploded and broke up as it hit the ground and cut a flaming swath through the woods. Wreckage of the giant $3.5 million craft was strewn over an area equivalent to several city blocks.

The Air Force identified the victims, all of whose bodies were recovered, as:

Capt. Robert M. Predmesky, 31, of Detroit, Mich., the aircraft commander; Capt. Kim Tewart, 30, of Hamilton, Ohio, pilot; Capt. Ronald Lee Cantrell, 29, of Kewanee, Ill., navigator; Staff Sgt. Wallace R. Adams, 27, of Benson, North Carolina, boom operator; M. Sgt. George T. Edmiston, 33, of Golden Bridge, N.Y., a crew chief; and Tech. Sgt. Raymond J. Brugioni, 43, of Granger, Iowa, also a crew chief.

ANSWER by OUR

Is every old home in Lincoln "up for destruction" if we pass the urban renewal proposal?

Certainly not. Many older homes in Lincoln have been well maintained and help to make up some of our most attractive and healthful neighborhoods.

But naturally if an old structure is neglected it falls into decay. And if this happens to a number of houses in a given block, the result cannot help but be an area of decay. If these areas grow in size and continue to go down hill, a slum condition results.

This wasteful and harmful condition is what we are trying to prevent in Lincoln through urban renewal.

What is to prevent a redeveloped area from becoming blighted again after a few years?

As long as there is an urban renewal program which has prevention of blight as its primary goal the city will have a strong unit made up of citizens whose job it is to prevent any recurrence of such blight once it is cleaned up. Without urban renewal we have no official body which has this responsibility.

Frontier Appeal Supreme Court Arguments Set

The State Supreme Court will hear oral arguments in Frontier Airlines appeal to a $12,000 fine levied by Cherry County District Court on May 31, the last day before adjournment until September.

Frontier is appealing the fine which was given by the court when it disobeyed a court injunction and stopped service on segment 13 of its northern Nebraska route.

The stoppage occurred late in December of last year. The airlines was fined $1,000 a day for 12 days.

An appeal by the airlines to a recent State Railway Commission action ordering it to resume flights on the segment by June 6 has also been appealed to the high court, but action will not be taken until the fall session at the earliest.

'Kill-Joy' Takes Negative Look At Space

Seattle (AP) — An economist who admits he is a "kill-joy" took a hard look at space programs Wednesday and indulged in a bit of negative head-shaking about:

1. Communications and weather satellites. He called their outlook "somewhat fuzzy."

2. Travel to the moon. "Mankind is not going to be enriched either by exploiting resources on the moon or by establishing residence there."

William H. Meckling of the government-sponsored "Think Factory" called the Rand Corp., of Santa Monica, Calif., told the second annual conference on peaceful uses of space:

Very Exciting

"The exploration of space is a very exciting affair indeed. If glamor displaces science in guiding national policy, however, the results may be very disappointing.

"A communications satellite system that charges prices not very much different from present prices and that must be constantly subsidized and protected from competition is not much of an accomplishment, and may make us the subject of ridicule rather than admiration."

Meckling, 41, an economic analyst with Rand since 1955, recalled predictions that communications satellites will enable anyone to call anywhere in the world for 10 cents, and that such satellites will make international communications a $100 billion a year business Then he added:

Sun Won't Rise

"These predictions are about on a par with a prediction that the sun will not rise tomorrow."

Noting that "much has been made of the use of communications satellites in underdeveloped counties," Meckling observed:

"It takes very little research or even thought to convince one that international telephones and international live television mean virtually nothing to the mass of the citizens of low income countries and will mean little for years to come. Nor is there a theory of economic development which attributes special qualities to international communications as a stimulant to growth."

Of weather satellites Meckling said:

"Better weather information could improve our understanding of the determinants of weather conditions, and thereby enable us to control or affect the weather." However, he added, "we have no very good reason at this juncture for believing that meteorological satellites are the key that will open the door to this happy state of affairs."

Calling the outlook for both communications and weather satellites "somewhat fuzzy," Meckling said "the economic implications of other space programs and the technology they will generate is pure conjecture."

He continued:

"It seems likely that any indirect economic benefits that accrue as a result of space endeavors like the lunar landing program will take the form of improved or new products used here on earth.

Not Enriching

"Mankind is not going to be enriched either by exploiting resources on the moon or by establishing residence there. Indeed it seems unlikely that space travel, as distinguished from space exploration, will be a good investment in any time period in which our generation has a serious interest.

"To put the matter a little differently, I would not buy stock in a company that was proposing to acquire a valid title to the moon for a price that was even a small fraction of what we are proposing to spend getting there."

Locusts Plague Iran

Tehran (AP) — Reports reaching here said locusts have eaten almost all crops in the eastern Iran provinces of Zabol and Sistan. U.S. and Soviet spray planes and experts are trying to destroy swarms threatening elsewhere.

Good news from all over: The sun shines bright on the old plantation in Hasker Street, London.

Science confirms that the 6-to-1 martini is better for you. Vermouth is the demon, demmit, sir. The gin is mother's milk.

"Vermouth is loaded with acetaldehyde," said the scientists. They measured the stuff. Stirring briskly with ice, no doubt. Acetaldehyde is what gives the oh-oh-oh head.

☆ ☆ ☆

"The way I mix a martini is this: I take the Heublein mix. For each 4 ounces, I add two ounces of gin. I keep it on ice in the refrigerator. Before serving—in an iced glass—I squeeze the oil from a grapefruit rind in the bottom."

Ordinarily, I wouldn't put this in ink. (Show me the man with soul so dead, who never to himself has said: "Listen, the way to make a dry martini is like this. You take . . .")

However, this recipe is from Morrison Wood. Syndicated gourmet columnist of "For Men Only." Author of "With a Jug of Wine" and "More Recipes With a Jug of Wine."

Ladies go into floury swoons over Mr. Wood's recipes. He is the men's last word on the taste bud.

It is here revealed for the first time. Mr. Wood uses a prepared martini mix. And I imagine the consternation will blanch olives across the dry world.

☆ ☆ ☆

We were having dinner the other night at Shepherd's, a pub and restaurant in Shepherd's Market. This little stage set area lies hidden behind bustling Piccadilly.

It is a tiny one-act place—a couple of narrow, twisty streets and a soft golden gleam of light in the London evening. Shepherd's has deep lounge chairs, open doorways and tail-coated waiters upstairs.

Mr. Wood has been cooking and writing about it for many a sauteed year.

Like any other red-blooded American, he claims to make the best martini.

"I learned this from Adolph in the old Paris Louvre in San Francisco," said Mr. Wood. "It was so secret that he made them underneath the bar. Out of sight.

"He finally erevealed it to me on my sworn oath never to give away the mystery."

Mr. Wood said he felt he could give it to me because the Paris Louvre is now closed.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is how, on a warm London evening, I found how the martini came to its ultimate, delicious peak. In San Francisco, where the martini was invented—that's the story anyway.

Naturally, this recipe will be challenged.

The 16-to-1 people (Warren Lee Pierson, the former TWA board chairman is one) will challenge the measurements.

The purists will abhor the use of a prepared mix.

There will be cries of "fie!" and "shame" for keeping it in the icebox. And outcries of rage from those who stir gently, feeling that gin is easily bruised.

☆ ☆ ☆

"To all of them, the back of me hand," said Mr. Wood stoutly. "People who come to my house and try a martini say to me, 'Morrie, what you do to it?'

"Naturally, I never tell them—until now."

Mr. Wood has an ace up his sleeve. Adolph took this secret of the dry martini to a national contest of bartenders some years ago.

He won the first prize.

Peace Corps Seeks Finigan's Advice In Securing Members

State Agricultural Director Pearle F. Finigan said Wednesday that the Peace Corps has asked him for "advice and assistance" in furthering efforts to reach people in farm areas and rural communities with the story of opportunities for service in the corps.

Finigan said the request came from Peace Corps Director R. Sargent Shriver.

Shriver said that, "Countries in Africa, Latin America, and Asia have requested the Peace Corps to send 1,000 Americans with farming backgrounds — and to send them within 6 months — to help improve agricultural techniques in newly developing areas."

Shriver added that opportunities are immediately available for men and women over 18 years of age who have been reared on the farm or who have had successful farming experience.

High school graduate with farming experience can apply even though they may not have been to college, he continued. Also welcome are applications from farmers in their 30's, 40's, or 50's if their health is sound, he said.

Countries that have requested farmers include India, Malaya, North Borneo and Sarawak, Philippines, Thailand, trust territories in the South Pacific, El Salvador, Columbia, Bolivia, Chile, Brazil, Venezuela and Jamaica.

The volunteers will be doing a variety of jobs, including the operation, care, maintenance and repair of farming machinery, handling, feeding, breeding, and management of livestock and poultry; soil conservation; building farm structures; care and operation of dairies and dairy equipment, maintenance and repair of diesel engines.

Physical Resources Plan Advocated By Richards

Sidney — A complete blueprint for development of Nebraska's physical resources was advocated Wednesday by Republican congressional candidate Bill Richards of Orleans.

Richards, a Third District candidate, spoke at a Rotary Club luncheon.

He proposeed a cooperative study by local, state and federal agencies to assess Nebraska's physical resources and outline how they can best be developed.

Such a study, he said, would indicate how much the state's cities will expand; which areas offer best potential for industrial, recreational and tourist-attraction development, how best to conserve surface and underground water; where irrigation is most practical, and where reservoirs should be built.

"Nebraska can become one of the richest states agriculturally with one of the best balanced economies if we have the wisdom, vision and determination to plan our development and vigorously carry it forward," Richards declared.

"The progress Nebraska could make with such an over-all development plan would be fantastic."

Rep. Martin Given ACA Endorsement

By The Associated Press

Rep. David Martin, Kearney Republican, was endorsed Tuesday for re-election from the Nebraska Third Congressional District by the Americans for Constitutional Action.

The organization statement said: "ACA finds Dave Martin an extremely well-qualified and dynamic candidate. ACA has made an exhaustive study of Congressman Martin's voting record during his freshman year in Congress and has found him to be one of the outstanding Republicans who has consistently voted to safeguard the God-given dignity of the individual and to promote sound economic growth.

"Congressman Martin has voted 92 per cent of the time against 'group morality' and a socialized economy through centralization of power in big government. In the opinion of ACA, Dave Martin ranks in the top 10 per cent of the entire Congress . . ."

Interstate 80 Construction Will Create 5 Lakes In Kearney Area

Five lakes with potential for recreational development are expected to be formed as the result of construction of Interstate Highway 80 between Kearney and Elm Creek, State Department of Roads officials reported Wednesday.

The man-made lakes along the Platte River Valley, formed by borrowing soil for Interstate Highway construction, have been dubbed the "Chain of Lakes" or "Platte Valley Parkway."

Engineering plans prepared in advance of a May 24 bid opening on construction of the 16-mile stretch west of Kearney envision 12 borrow pits, of which 5 will be deep and secure enough to carry potential as lakes.

Just which of them will become involved in wayside or recreation development by the Game Commission remains to be seen.

Revenue from a special 10-year tax levy for park and recreation improvements, voted by the 1961 legislature, won't begin to be received until next year.

The May 24 bid opening will cover grading, bridges and paving on the Kearney-Elm Creek section.

Location of the 5 "lakes," and size:

Southwest quadrant of the Elm Creek interchange, 29.6 acres.

North side of the highway, 4½ miles east of Elm Creek, 32.2 acres.

Northeast quadrant of the Odessa interchange, 23.2 acres.

North side of Highway 2 miles west of Kearney, 15.7 acres.

North side of Highway one mile west of Kearney, 10.1 acres.

Farthest along of the Chain of Lakes is one at Grand Island, a 43 acre lake near to and accessible from the Interstate Highway.

Near-Genius Cop Killer And Paid Assassin Leaves Prison

Stillwater, Minn. (UPI) — Joseph P. Redenbaugh, 64, near-genius cop killer and paid assassin, turned his back on 45 years of prison life Wednesday with a wave of his hand to his warden.

"I want to go walking through the woods," he said. "I can't do that in here."

Redenbaugh said he also wanted to "get a piece of land, a house and a little shop" and hoped in about 3 years to marry a woman who began writing him 9 years ago.

Redenbaugh, a respected fixture at Stillwater State Prison, was met by Robert McCoy, Minneapolis, state president of the American Humanist Association, and McCoy's wife and 4-year-old son.

To West Coast

He will spend some time with the family before reporting to a job on the West Coast.

Redenbaugh and another hired killer, Frank McCool were imported to Minneapolis and St. Paul in 1917 to kill Mrs. Frank Dunn, wife of a St. Paul contractor. Bartender Michael Moore, acting as go-between, offered $3,000 for the job.

On April 25, 1917, before they could find Mrs. Dunn, the gunmen were stopped by Minneapolis Patrolman George Connery for a traffic violation.

Shot Policeman

En route to the police station, Redenbaugh slipped out his revolver and shot Connery. He and McCool lashed the wounded policeman to a tree in nearby Anoke County. Connery's body was found 10 days later.

Meanwhile, the pair tracked Mrs. Dunn to her parents' home in St. Paul. They slipped into a bedroom, found her sleeping with her sister, identified their intended victim and shot her to death.

Redenbaugh was sentenced to 7-30 years for the Dunn killing several years after he received a life sentence for killing Connery.

Dunn, McCool and Moore died in prison.

Redenbaugh, in a gray checked suit, sporty hat and sky-blue necktie, collected $117 in cash and $1,300 in bonds Wednesday from the prison cashier and walked out of prison to a news conference.

He is writing a book describing why he became a criminal, he said.

"Frankly, I'm interested in the money. And if it's any benefit to sociologists, psychiatrists or young men who are like I was, that's fine."

Redenbaugh said he was in prison 15 to 20 years before he changed his anti-social attitude. He compared it to trying to stop smoking.

"I learned to steal when I was 3 or 4 years old and I branched out from there. There was nothing I could understand to keep me from doing these things."

Raise'm Right

He said his advice to parents was to "bring the children up right."

Redenbaugh said he regretted the killings of Connery and Mrs. Dunn. He said he and his partner had no intention of killing anyone.

He credited his study of mathematics with keeping him going while in prison. He had only a fourth grade education, but trained himself in calculus, logic, physics and electrical engineering.

Redenbaugh said he looked forward to marriage.

"I don't plan to get married until I get a piece of land, a house and a little shop to have something to offer a woman who comes to live with me," he said.

DINAH SHORE

Dinah Gets Divorce In 6 Minutes

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP) — Dinah Shore, whose most famous song is "It's So Nice To Have A Man Around The House," testified Wednesday that she didn't.

She got a divorce decree, ending her 18-year marriage to cowboy actor George Montgomery in 6 minutes.

Tense, with moistened eyes, the chic singer said:

"My husband was away for 3 months at a stretch in 1959, 3 months in 1960, 3 months in 1961, and often shorter periods.

Some Work

"Sometimes it was for movie location work. Other times it wasn't.

"I asked him, in fact urged him, not to leave, but he went anyway. Sometimes the absences were over the Christmas holidays.

"Once I insisted that he not leave before Christmas and he did stay until Dec. 26."

Home And Absent

She also testified that during the last few years the 45-year-old Montgomery could be home and still be absent.

"We would have guests for dinner," she said, "and George would spend the whole time talking on the phone. Then he would come out and hint, sometimes humorously, sometimes not, that the guests leave by 9:30 or so. If they didn't he shut himself up in the bedroom."

The Nashville-born singer said she was asking for no alimony and told the judge she was well able to support herself.

Confidential

Terms of the property settlement were kept confidential by agreement of both sides. Montgomery did not contest the decree.

Sources, however, said the settlement involved millions of dollars. Dinah, 44, is one of television's most successful stars while Montgomery, less famed, has been successful at producing and starring low-budget western and adventure films. He also formerly owned a thriving furniture factory and built the couple's $250,000 Beverly Hills home, which Dinah will occupy with the children, Melissa Ann, 14, and John David, 7.

Montgomery, who is in the east rehearsing for summer stock, will have reasonable visitation rights.

Planners Reject Abel Zoning

. . . BUT COUNCIL LIKELY TO APPROVE

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday recommended against a proposed zoning code amendment authorizing temporary use permits for cement batching and storage facilities in "rural and public use" districts.

The City Council has proposed the code change to permit Abel Construction Co. to relocate its railroad unloading and storage yard onto an 8.8-acre tract near the Municipal Airport access road and Hwys. 2-34.

This Abel facility is presently located farther north in the path of the proposed runway and expansion program for the airport.

"It's special legislation for Abel," commented a commission member, "but the council has already indicated it will be passed."

The proposed amendment would authorize a special use permit for cement batching plants and material storage for a period not to exceed 6 years and would not be renewable.

Both the public hearing and commission discussion were brief.

James Hewitt, Abel's general counsel, described the proposed amendment as "a solution to the difficult problem involving Abel Construction Co., Airport Authority and City of Lincoln."

The Abel firm has agreed to move to the 8.8-acre tract for $125,000, but has put a $165,000 price tag on its present 14-acre site if it is forced to move to any other location.

No action was taken on a special permit as no formal application was before the commission.

A commission report on the zoning code change is required before the council can act.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden advised the commission that the type of special use permit proposed deviates from the policy and concept of special use permits.

He said the code change "only grants the operation of this kind of use special privileges" and "will only encourage other petitioners to request the same privilege."

No Action On Proposed Stock-Car Track Zoning

Zoning action for a proposed stock-car race track on an 80-acre tract located three-quarters of a mile west of Hwy. 77 and the old Turnpike dance hall corner was deferred to May 23 by the City-County Planning Commission.

Lincoln Speedways Inc., which will close its race track at Capitol Beach after this season, proposed a new track for this location.

Deferring action, the commission called for a detailed plot plan of the track and parking, more information on Hwy. 77 traffic from the State Highway Department and reaction from farm residents in the area.

Said Unfavorable

Both Planning Director Douglas Brogden and State Engineer John Hossack advised the commission the site was unfavorable because of Hwy. 77 traffic and an S-curve near the county access road to the track site.

A Lincoln Speedways official estimated the track would draw a maximum of 3,000 persons and 1,300 cars, but said deputy sheriffs would be employed to direct traffic.

Other commission action:

—approved highway commercial zoning on 1½-lots at southeast corner of Virginia and 13th extended, but denied any change on 3 lots to the west. Applicant was Henry Rath.

—approved light industry zoning of Teala's Addition on West Van Dorn near Folsom. Walt Stevens, owner of the property, opposed the change proposed by the commission in approving zoning of the Clement Gaughn and Ed Barry tracts adjoining.

—denied a special permit for a parking lot for cars and utility trailers proposed by C. C. Archer on a 100-by-300-foot tract east of 710 No. 48th business property.

—deferred preliminary plat of Antelope Creek Addition, a replat at 40th and proposed Antelope Creek Rd. for further engineering report on drainage.

—approved final plats of D. O. Pettit subdivision, a 4-lot replat near 37th and Calvert and Outlots A & B of Fiene Terrace Second Addition, near 40th and Spruce.

—recommended against sale of a half-block tract of University Place Park located on Cleveland between 39th and 40th.

—approved vacation of north-south alley between Judson and Gladstone, 49th and 50th.

—approved a special permit for Dr. Donald Asbjornson to construct and operate a dental clinic at 48th and Van Dorn.

—recommended zoning code amendment to permit clinics to be closer to lot lines in non-residential districts.

Commission members present were Acting Chairman Mrs. J. Edmunds Miller, Chet Dobbs, Charles Simon, Joe Ginsburg, Jerome Warner and Pace Woods.

Booms To Be Heard With Runs

More sonic booms can be expected with the announcement that jet bomber crews of the Strategic Air Command will begin flying missions on May 21 against simulated targets near Pratt, Kan.

Radar bomb scoring equipment mounted on an Air Force train parked near the target will score the accuracy of simulated bomb drops by means of radio and radar signals.

The bomb runs, according to the announcement by Offutt AFB, will be flown by B-47 and B-52 bombers at subsonic speeds, and B-58 bombers at supersonic speeds.

The aircraft flying at subsonic speed will enter the route at high altitude near Garden City, Kan.

At Omaha, Too

The B-58 bombers, flying at 1,300 m.p.h., will enter corridors at Howard, S.D., Clarendon, Texas, and Omaha.

These flights will be at altitudes between 35,000 and 50,000 feet. Therefore, any sonic boom reaching the earth's surface will be comparatively weak in strength.

No bombs are carried by the SAC bombers while on these training flights.

Support Given Pre-School For Retarded Tots

The Governor's Inter-Agency Committee on Mental Retardment met Wednesday to review its past work and map out future plans.

The committee planned to review its recent report and recommendations to the governor before deciding what course of action it should next follow.

The committee also gave its support to a proposed new training center in Lincoln for pre-school retarded children. The idea originated with the committee, according to its chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Enersen of Lincoln.

Mrs. A. Stuart Hall of Lincoln, who will be in charge of the proposed center, said public support of the proposed center has been good. It would be supported through voluntary contributions.

Dutch Troops, Natives Snare Indonesians

Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea (UPI)—Dutch troops and loyal native Papuan militiamen have trapped 40 Indonesian paratroopers in the jungle mountains of western Dutch New Guinea, Rear Adm. Leendert Reeser announced Wednesday.

A communique issued by Reeser, commander-in-chief of Dutch forces in New Guinea, said the Indonesian paratroopers were dropped in an area north of the town of Fak Fak last week. Fak Fak lies on the coast about 150 Air miles from the Indonesian island of Ceram.

The communique said the paratroopers "fled into the jungle after Dutch troops engaged them." It gave no details of the reported clash and mentioned no casualties on either side.

It did refer to an undisclosed number of "prisoners" and disclosed that the "paratroopers have not received further supplies from Indonesia."

The communique said the invaders have been surrounded by the Dutch forces, including marines, army troops and the local battalion of Papuan volunteers. But it indicated that closing the trap would be difficult.

"The heavy mountainous terrain is a serious handicap for operations," the communique noted. "Food has to be supplied from elsewhere."

Sources Report Serraj Is In Cairo

Cairo, UAR (AP)—Usually reliable sources reported that the former Syrian intelligence boss Abdel Hamid Serraj had arrived here.

Earlier, a report that he had arrived by plane from Beirut was denied by an informed source.

Serraj disappeared from Damascus' Mezza Prison last Sunday with the prison's chief guard.

GOP Plans 5 City 'Coffee Visit'

Omaha — Republican candidates, officials and party workers will participate Monday in "a simultaneous coffee visit" in 5 cities linked by a joint telephone hook-up.

Announcement of the unique campaign technique was made Wednesday by GOP State Vice Chairman Mrs. Anne Batchelder of Omaha.

Cities linked by the event will include Lincoln, Omaha, Kearney, North Platte and Scottsbluff.

Lincoln's meeting will be held at Pershing Auditorium beginning at 10 a.m.

Featured speakers are to be gubernatorial candidates Fred Seaton of Hastings and George Clarke of Harrison. Louis Hector of Lincoln did not respond to his invitation to speak.

Audiences in all 5 communities will be able to hear speakers and questions from any of the participants, Mrs. Batchelder said.

Many Statehouse officials will speak from Lincoln, she noted. All GOP candidates for state and national offices have been asked to participate.

State Chairman Robert Denney of Fairbury will direct the event from Omaha's Brownell Hall auditorium.

Meeting sites in other communities include Fort Kearney Hotel, Kearney; Pawnee Hotel, North Platte, and Lincoln Hotel, Scottsbluff.

"We believe this joint telephone hook-up, linking Republicans from Scottsbluff to Omaha, will contribute to a record-breaking turnout of GOP voters on Tuesday," Mrs. Batchelder said.

'Public Law 480 Known To Farmers'

Geneva — Republican congressional candidate Robert Harrison Wednesday told a group of farmers and businessmen that "Nebraska farmers know what Public Law 480 is—even if some others in our state don't."

Harrison, a former congressman, is a candidate in the First District.

"Maybe my opponents who are bickering over who uses what room in the Cornhusker Hotel or the proper use of the franking privilege are not aware of what the law has done for our state," he declared.

"This is the most important farm legislation any congressman has secured since World War II for the aid of agriculture."

The law "actually has assisted in raising the living standards for thousands of us in Nebraska," Harrison said.

"We can get far more peace from food than from rifles," he noted.

"And in this program, we're getting something in return. It has convinced many government officials of U.S. good will."

The bill provides for the sale of surplus U.S. farm commodities for foreign currencies. It was introduced by Harrison who secured its adoption in 1954.

Critical Shortage Of Farm Hands Exists

A critical shortage of farm hands now exists throughout the state, the Division of Employment of the State Department of Labor said Wednesday.

The department said that favorable weather for working soil has permitted seed bed preparation to progress rapidly.

In the western part of the state dry weather may force some farmers to disc up sugar beets, it added. Canal irrigation will not be generally available to farmers until after May 25.

Area labor reports:

Alliance — Supply of qualified farm and ranch labor generally light except for families who are having difficulty finding acceptance due to lack of school facilities. Beet labor beginning to arrive in area.

Beatrice — Demand for short time miscellaneous workers increasing. Some demand for qualified workers but very few applicants.

Columbus — No qualified farm applicants to fill current openings. Need for both single and married farm hands remains urgent.

Grand Island—Demand continues. At present no applicants.

Hastings — Adequate workers for 750 acres of sugar beets arriving from Texas. Short on qualified general farm hands.

Kearney — Texas migratory workers arriving. Qualified farm workers remain in demand.

Lincoln — Demand for seasonal farm help gradually picking up.

McCook — Labor demand remains steady.

Nebraska City — Labor supply and demand in near balance.

Norfolk — Shortage of available farm and ranch hands is increasing. Office is dependent almost entirely on "walk-in" traffic for farm labor. Farmers using part-time workers.

North Platte — Nationals will begin to arrive by Sunday. General farm labor is in short supply.

SEC Ponders Tricks Of Mutual Fund Sellers

Washington (AP) — Some tricks taught mutual fund salesmen were read from a training manual Wednesday at a Securities and Exchange Commission inquiry into whether there should be more federal control of securities selling.

SEC attorney Meyer Eisenberg questioned whether sales tactics suggested in a manual by Kalb Voorhis & Co., a New York Stock Exchange brokerage firm, matched the standards avowed by the blossoming mutual fund industry. A partner in the firm, Ferdinand Nauheim, said he saw nothing unethical in the suggested techniques.

Nauheim's firm deals primarily in stocks. But he said it gets business from mutual funds in return for supplying them with special services designed to help train salesmen and promote customer interest in mutual funds.

13% In Cash

Nauheim said his firm last year sold more than $75,000 in training and sales aids but received cash payments for only about 13% of the total. The balance, he said, was paid through commission business directed to Kalb, Voorhis by mutual funds buying and selling stocks on the New York exchange.

Th[illegible]ands place orders and instruct his firm to credit th[illegible] resulting co[illegible]missions to various dealers pushing fund shares, Nauheim explained. The dealers then use their credits to buy the special material prepared by the brokerage house, he said.

In most cases, Nauheim said, it takes twic[illegible] much commission business to buy one of the special aids as would be required for a cash purch[illegible]se. This "[illegible]ark-up" is necessary, he said, because "it costs us money to execute orders" on the exchange.

Back-Scratching

This was another of the reciprocal back-scratching selling arrangements between sellers of stocks and mutual funds described in the public hearing, now in its third day.

In this connection, the inquiry also heard of a not-very-successful nationwide publicity campaign financed by a New York Stock Exchange brokerage house to promote mutual fund sales. William G. Damroth, president of Templeton, Damroth Corp., New York, explained that A. G. Becker & Co. undertook the campaign in hopes that mutual funds would give it their stock exchange business.

Damroth said some funds did divert business to Becker but the amount was insufficient to justify the continued expense. In addition, he said, the publicity drive for the mutual funds was not satisfactory.

Lot Of Promise

"There was a lot of promise and it didn't all come true," Damroth said.

The Kalb-Voorhis training manual for salesmen which Eisenberg questioned included one technique labeled "accidentally on purpose."

The manual suggested that where a prospect is ready to sign up the salesman should fill out all the blanks on the order form and without asking questions or looking up write in that the customer agrees to invest $250 a month.

The manual noted that the customer is likely to say that this is mort than he planned to set aside for the purpose. But it "starts him thinking big" and he is likely to sign up for larger payments than he normally would, the manual adds.

Another Lesson

In another lesson, a salesman was pictured talking to a garage mechanic while his auto is being serviced and asking if the mechanic owned the business. The mechanic replies that he would need $50,000 to buy the business and couldn't come close to raising that.

The manual suggests that the salesman then ask, "how would you like to have $50,000?"

It says this is almost certain to arouse the mechanic's interest and the salesman can proceed with his sales spiel in which he should eventually say that investment in mutual funds is not likely to yield $50,000.

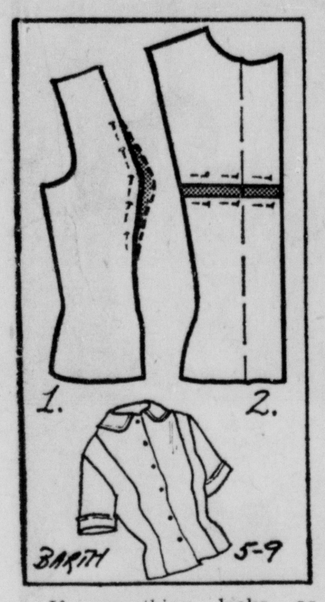
It Seams To Me

What To Do—And How

Patricia Scott



If something looks as though it needs mending, don't put it off and wear it "one more time." If you do, it may be too late to save it.

Q. I have a couple of skirts that seem to be fraying a tiny bit at the side seams. It isn't bad, but I'm afraid to wear them again for fear they'll really come apart. Can I try to save them in any way? Miss H. M. C.

A. If the fraying is just starting, you can reinforce the seams with tape or seam binding. Restitch the original seam line and press the seam open. Place the tape over the seam on the wrong side, with tape covering both sides of seam equally, and baste. Turn dress to right side and stitch along both sides of original seam. If only one seam needs reinforcing, I suggest you stitch the corresponding seam on the outside too, so the one will not look obviously "patched."

Q. I have a large bust and must alter all bodice patterns. I know how to do this to a regular blouse, but how do I enlarge a princess line dress with a button front? Mrs. D. Y.

A. On a large piece of paper, trace the side front pattern piece at the bustline curve. Then, move the curve you traced out as far as is necessary and pin pattern to paper. Draw new seam lines from the curve to the shoulder seam and waistline (figure 1). Take the front pattern piece and cut it across the bust. Slide a piece of paper under it, separate the two pattern pieces the necessary amount, and pin to the paper. Don't forget to do this, because your seam lines will be unequal if you alter only the side front piece (figure 2).

Q. I have trouble stitching bias seams on skirts. Either the seam draws, or the stitching line breaks after I wear it and sit down. Is there anything I can try to solve this? Mrs. M. J.

A. A row of stay stitching on each seam usually prevents this from happening. However, you can also allow the seam to stretch slightly in one of two ways. 1. As you machine stitch, stretch the seam very, very slightly as you would when you sew on jersey. But don't pull it too much. Or. 2. pin the seams together along the bias seam lines and hand the skirt from a hanger overnight before stitching. I always use the first method.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

The bidding:

Courage is a valuable commodity at the bridge table, but where courage ends and foolhardiness begins is a matter each one has to judge for himself.

You can't say that the East in this hand lacked either fortitude or imagination when he doubled four spades. Certainly, he didn't have four defensive tricks to point to, but yet, his double was not as farfetched as first appears.

East thought that his double against the strong bidding put up by North-South would necessarily be interpreted by West as lead-directing. He reasoned that if West had a trick the contract would be defeated with a club lead.

He would ruff the opening club, put his partner back in the lead for another club ruff, and thus defeat the contract with the aid of his ace of hearts. And, as a matter of fact, that is more or less what would have happened if West had led a club and declarer finessed. East would have ruffed, played the ace and another heart, and gotten another ruff.

But West didn't quite appreciate what was going on. He failed to read the double as lead-directing. He opened a low heart which East took with the ace. East returned a heart to the king and now, catching on at last, West led the nine of clubs.

Declarer, afraid this was a singleton, went up with the ace only to have it ruffed. East led back a trump and declarer, completely confused, finessed. West won with the queen, cashed the king of clubs, played another club for East to trump, and that was the end of the party. Down 1,600.

Of course, South would have been better off if he had finessed the club at trick three instead of going up with the ace. In fact, he would have been 2,830 points better off. He could have been plus 1,230 instead of minus 1,600.

Did East make a bad double? Did West make a bad lead? It all depends on how you look at it. If you think pragmatically, East-West played perfectly.

Anchors "Away", Navy Wives Play

Navy officers' brides and brides-to-be were the special guests on Tuesday evening when the wives of Naval ROTC staff members entertained at the home of Mrs. W. F. McCauley.

Feminine tips on life in the Navy and how to cope with crises — both domestic and social — while husband is off on sea duty, dominated the conversation. There even was advice, given by recent bride, Mrs. Cobe Venner, II, on how-to-be-given-in-marriage - by - an-admiral.

TALK

It is that time of year when all sorts of interesting events are looming on the horizon—Some we can mention — some we can't, at least not yet.

We're wondering about a certain Delta Gamma, now on the west coast, and the news of her impending marriage—All we have at the moment is a rumor, but we'll turn it into fact as soon as we know for sure.

Then, there is that exciting announcement next week. It won't come as a surprise to anyone, but still it IS exciting.

* * *

The current week is far from a complete blank, socially speaking—We learned for instance, that Mr. and Mrs. Allan Casari are doing some entertaing at their home on Saturday evening. A group of their friends has been invited for an informal buffet, and will be entertained by a Limbo group during the evening.

Perhaps you do, or do not, know that Mr. and Mrs. Casari and their two children, Constance and Edwin, are leaving Lincoln and will become residents of Independence, Kan., where Mr. Casari recently was transferred by his company.

Actually, Mr. Casari already is in Independence, and will be joined there in a few weeks by his family. In the interim Mr. Casari is something of a weekend commuter.

* * *

This week also begins a round of prenuptial courtesies for a popular bride-elect. Miss Fredericka Rucklos, whose marriage to Antony Gerken will take place on Thursday, June 14, in Santa Clara, Calif.

This morning Mr. Gerken's mother, Mrs. Clay d'A. Gerken will be a coffee hostess at her home to compliment Miss Rucklos, and her mother, Mrs. Ervin Rucklos Twenty guests have been invitied.

* * *

And on Saturday, Miss Rucklos will again be an honoree when Mrs. Philip M. Aitken entertains at a luncheon and a miscellaneous shower at the Lincoln Country Club.

* * *

If you are in the downtown area today no doubt you will notice a group of coeds—all Delta Gammas—with white canes. This is the sorority's White Cane Day, its wonderful project for the Lincoln Braille Club. Assisting the members of the active chapter on the various O Street corners, will be the active members of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Mrs. JayCees Elects New Board

The answers to "What to do when your child stamps his foot or holds his breath until his face turns blue" were provided for the Mrs. JayCees, wives of Junior Chamber of Commerce members, on Wednesday evening when Dr. Donald Clifton of the University of Nebraska faculty spoke on, "Discipline Problems."

During the meeting, the newly-elected members of the board were introduced. New officers of the Mrs. JayCees will be selected from the board later this spring.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going steady with Claude for 6 months. I am 17 and he is 19. He started college (in this city where we live) but quit because he couldn't see any future in it. His mother blames me. She told him if he didn't stop seeing me she would take his car away. He works as a painter and that is good enough for him, but his mother thinks he should go back to college. I think he should do what he wants to do. His mother has called me and told me to leave him alone. Abby, I love him and don't intend to leave him alone. We can't afford to get married yet. What should I do?

HEAVY HEART

DEAR HEAVY: Claude's mother knows her son better than you do. If you can't encourage him to continue his education while he is young and able to, do him a favor and leave him alone.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married soon and the question of who should give me showers has come up. Someone told me showers shouldn't be given by a relative—only by a friend. My problem is, I don't have any friends. All I have is relatives. Now, who gives me the showers?

SUMMER BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: A shower should not be given by a CLOSE relative (a mother or sister). But a cousin may give one.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a nice fellow and he has asked me to marry him. I would like to have a big church wedding and wear a white gown and veil, and have a large reception. I had a child. A few in the family know about it. Should I tell my future husband about it? I gave the baby up for adoption. I was only 15 at the time and I am 19 now.

SECRET KEPT

DEAR SECRET: Do not make a mockery of a large wedding with a gown and veil. And by all means, TELL your future husband.

For a personal (unpublished) reply to your problem, send Abby a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Miss Barbara Jean Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wheeler of Stella to William Clarence Ely, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Ely, also of Stella, took place at St. Ann's Church at Shubert, on Saturday morning, April 28. The 10 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Father Gergen, and Mrs. Ralph Walton played the wedding music. Harold Ahern was the vocal soloist.

The attendants, Miss Mary Alice Arimgton of Topeka, Kan., the maid of honor; and bridesmaid, Miss Kay Pearson of Omaha, wore alike frocks of mint green taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Edward H. Ely of Auburn served his brother as best man, and the ushers were James Tramp of Crofton; William Spillman of Hastings, and John Bebb.

The bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle for her wedding. The long-sleeved bodice was fashioned with a heart-shaped neckline patterned with pearls and sequins, and the bouffant skirt was designed with a front panel of tulle which was ornamented with lace applique. She carried white orchids on a white prayer book.

The bride attended the Lincoln School of Commerce, and Mr. Ely is a student at the Nebraska Vocational School.

The couple is residing at 1836 Washington St.

Conspiracy Claim Draws Hot Answer

GROUP OF URBAN RENEWAL FOES HIT BY BOYLES

Mayor Pat Boyles sharply replied Wednesday to what he called "a group of persons whose apparent desire is to discredit the purpose of urban renewal and to attack the integrity of its proponents."

The mayor said in a prepared statement that "the charge that elective officers of your city, of your state and of your nation have entered into a large conspiracy against a few of their citizens is ludicrous."

"Urban renewal is the program that is being employed in over 500 American cities. It should be adopted in Lincoln where there is still time."

Mayor Boyles said "outright misrepresentation" cannot be condoned, even in the heat of a political campaign, and particularly if the misrepresentations are made by persons "who, by background, training, or position, must be aware of the nature of their acts."

Repeated Charge

"I call attention to the repeated charge that urban renewal creates an absolute right to acquire any property of any person at a price determined in advance by some all-powerful authority and transferred to some waiting private individual."

"The facts," he said, "all of which are printed in black and white and are an integral part of the law of Nebraska, are these: No person can be deprived of any property without just compensation. Urban renewal goes even further than this and cares for a large part of the consequental inconvenience. It is required by law to do so. No absolute right exists to take any property."

Other highlights of the mayor's statement:

—Property can be taken only upon a showing of need, a showing no other method of improvement is available, and then only upon the assurance that its future use will be benefit to the community.

—Property acquired for urban renewal can be transferred only for fair value, under rigid bidding regulations, and under such restrictions to its ultimate use as will guarantee public benefit and prevent recurrence of urban blight.

—The voters are strongly urged to give Lincolr the benefit of this modern tool for community development.

'Majority Wants To Give Urban Renewal Fair Trial'

The Organization For Urban Renewal is confident that a majority of Lincoln voters want to give urban renewal a fair trial, Co-Chairman Lawrence Enersen said Wednesday.

Enersen urged a 100% turnout of Lincoln's 59,000 registered voters at the polls in next Tuesday's primary election.

"If less than half of the registered voters turn out, urban renewal will be defeated," he predicted. "A small minority of voters will have dictated the decision."

If the turnout is large, Enersen said there "is no question that the overwhelming decision will be to give urban renewal a fair trial."

"It is this fair trial proposed by Mayor Pat Boyles when he said he would ask the City Council to designate a pilot project to demonstrate to Lincoln voters how the urban renewal works."

Enersen said the mayor's statement probably fell upon deaf ears of those whose minds have been made up on the issue.

"But we are confident they do not represent a majority by any means," he continued. "If all who have retained their independence of judgment will express themselves, they will decide that Mayor Boyles is right in advocating a fair trial for urban renewal in Lincoln."

Warning Given

Urging Lincoln citizens not to let "extremist opponents dictate the outcome," Enersen said defeat of urban renewal "will mean that misinformation and extremist statements distributed by some opponents have proven more acceptable than the facts of the case."

He said that the proponent group has used "authentic and factual information, presented in context."

"It is our sincere belief now, as it was 4 months ago, that if enough Lincoln voters are acquainted with what urban renewal really means and express themselves at the polls, the issue will carry in the election."

Algeria Moves On OAS

Algiers (AP) — Deportations, city-wide searches and total curfews in sealed-off areas were decreed by authorities Wednesday in a new drive to stamp out the European Secret Army terror in Algiers and Oran.

Massive police reinforcements to enforce the new measures will be moved into the two seething cities.

The crackdown was announced as Moslems began kidnaping many Europeans in retaliation for the terrorist attacks, which showed no sign of abating.

28 Were Slain

In Algiers, 39 attacks left 28 dead. Two were women, a Moslem and a European. There were 26 wounded, two of them Europeans, the remainder Moslems. One of the European wounded was a woman.

In Oran there were 7 deaths, two of them women, a Moslem and a European. Another European woman was wounded.

Over-all toll for the day in Algeria: 37 dead—33 of them Moslems; 38 wounded, 34 of them Moslems.

Sterner Measures

The sterner measures were announced by French High Commissioner Christian Fouchet after a conference with the French commander in chief in Algeria, Gen. Michel Fourquet.

Police sealed off a new section of Algiers, as they have done in other areas in recent days, and began searching it for Secret Army members, arms and explosives.

Authorities announced the confiscation and destruction of 160 cars parked illegally near Moslem quarters. This is to stop the booby-trapping of automobiles. One such vehicle killed 62 Moslems on the dockside last week.

Closed Sections

Hereafter, Fouchet's office said, sections closed off will be placed under an indefinite, total curfew and systematically searched.

Throughout the city pedestrians also will be searched for arms.

In Paris, French sources said the government is considering the incorporation of detachments of the nationalist Algerian army in the new local force of Moslems which is under the control of the Algerian provisional executive.

The nationalists maintain that only a strong Moslem force can deal with European terrorists.

The French arrested 9 Europeans in Algiers and deported them to France. The list include two civil servants accused of sympathy with the Secret Army. Authorities said more deportations will take place.

There's No Place Like Nebraska, Claims Texan

"Nebraska is the greatest place in the world to live," declared an ex-Texan turned Omaha businessman Wednesday night in Lincoln.

John Everroad told more than 200 persons at a state promotion dinner that he left Texas 10 years ago, chose Nebraska as his permanent residence and has never regretted it.

The Nebraska Motor Carriers' Association dinner, put on in cooperation with the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, was designed to emphasize the advantages of living in this state.

Wednesday afternoon, the Motor Carriers' Association staged a 40-car caravan through Lincoln streets. Similar caravans have visited 80 other state towns in an effort "to mobilize Nebraska's population into a sales force for the state to the nation," Executive Secretary Paul Halpine said.

Other Speakers

Other speakers — in addition to Everroad — were State Sen. Jack Romans of Ord, Halpine, and Association President Carl Schweitzer.

Nebraska's greatest resources, Everrad said, are its people and its water. "You must plan how to live," Everroad declared, and all "it takes is a little bit to do a great deal."

Schweitzer's speech was entitled "This is NEBRASKA-land."

He cited Nebraska's agricultural greatness — "No. 1 livestock market, No. 1 meat packer, No. 1 cash livestock auction, No. 2 food processor of the nation," in addition to its position in rye, corn, wild hay, sorghum, sugar beets and winter wheat production.

Plenty of water and high-quality human resources are also important, Schweitzer said.

"The people of Nebraska," he pointed out, "are more stable, more interested in their own government, more active in church work, more educated and mentally more competent than the average person in the nation."

He said: "We — and by we, I mean you and me — must be the ones to spread the word that our Nebraska-land is truly the land of opportunity, truly the land with a future."

Psychotherapy Research Topic Of Discussion

Recent research in psychotherapy and projective techniques will be discussed by a panel at the spring meeting of the Nebraska Psychological Association.

The group will meet at the University of Nebraska Social Sciences Building on Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Subjects of the panel discussion will be a test of visual-motor development, presented by Dr. Mary Haworth of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute in Omaha; color responses in children and adolescents, by Dr. K. Warner Schaie, associate professor psychology at the University; and psychotherapy by reciprocal inhibition, by Dr. Milton Wolpin of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute.

President Clay d'A. Gerken, director of the University Counseling Service, will preside.

Attorney Adams To Seek Father's Post

Omaha (AP)—Attorney Ralph W. Adams, 50, has announced he will be a write-in candidate for the legislative seat held by his father, the late John Adams Sr.

The elder Adams, who died April 21, was a candidate for re-election. Five others also have filed for the 5th legislative district post.

FBI Grabs 2 Fugitives DESPITE TALK BY LOUD BIRD

Chattanooga, Tenn. (UPI) —FBI agents captured two widely sought fugitives at a crowded motel here Wednesday despite a talkative mynah bird that heckled the chief agent.

Everett Ingram, special agent in charge of the Knoxville FBI office, posted 5 other agents around the Shamrock Motel and then went into the motel lobby. He dialed the rooms occupied by Norman Brett McAuley, 25, of Springfield, Mass., and Richard Dale Hyder, 21, of Crossville, Tenn., and a woman companion. Ingram told them to "come out with your hands up."

The motel's pet mynah bird "Joe" screeched into the telephone "I've got a single. I've got a single."

"It rattled me a little, because I was afraid it might upset our plans," Ingram admitted later.

'Rattled Me'

McAuley and Hyder, wanted in 6 states on charges of armed robbery of supermarkets, peeked out through the blinds of their motel rooms and saw the agents. Between them, the fugitives carried 3 revolvers and two automatics.

Ingram telephoned them again and told them to surrender immediately or tear gas would be fired into their rooms. A woman guest in another room, unaware of the drama, started out the door and was rushed back inside by one of the FBI men.

Ribicoff Tells AMA To Forget 'Silly Charges'

Washington (AP)— Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff called Wednesday for the American Medical Association to quit "hurling silly charges" at him and "make up its mind about the doctors' revolt in New Jersey."

Ribicoff's statement was a reply to charges by Dr. F. J. L. Blasingame, AMA executive vice president, that the department's publication last week of a booklet on the health care of the aged was a violation of laws against lobbying with public funds.

Blasingame contended the booklet lobbies for the President's proposal for health insurance for the aged through Social Security. He asked for an investigation by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Herbert J. Miller, head of the department's criminal division, sent Blasingame this telegram in reply:

"As requested in your telegram the Department of Justice is reviewing the booklet being sold by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"Initial review of the contents of the booklet suggests that the provisions of section 1913 of title 18 of the U.S. code have not been violated."

Ribicoff is in New York. His statement was issued through his office here.

"My legal authority to recommend changes in the Social Security laws and to publish the facts that show the need for such changes is specifically spelled out in section 702 of the Social Security Act and later amendments," Ribicoff said.

"My predecessors in the Eisenhower administration made full use of this authority. They recognized, as I do, that the secretary of health, education and welfare has an obligation as a member of the cabinet to inform the American people and a specific duty imposed on him by act of Congress to make 'recommendations as to the most effective methods of providing economic security through social insurance'."

ABRAHAM RIBICOFF

Ribicoff said "the American Medical Association is obviously scared," and added:

"Its absurd claim that I have violated the law is nothing but a smoke screen to divert the public's attention from the AMA's shocking inability to make up its mind about the doctors' revolt in New Jersey."

Atlas Missile Given Clean Bill In Centaur Blast

Cape Canaveral (UPI) — The Atlas missile—the rocket slated to boost another U.S. astronaut into orbit later this month—was given a tentative clean bill of health Wednesday in Tuesday's Atlas-Centaur explosion.

It had been feared that if the trouble was in the Atlas section of the rocket scientists might have been forced to delay the manned orbital shot.

But officials said photographs and telemetry data from the 107-foot Atlas-Centaur combination indicated the explosion was caused by structural failures in the upper, Centaur stage, of the spa hicle.

"This certainly takes the pressure off Atlas," a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said.

"The film indicates a failure starting in the area of the junction between the nose cone and the Centaur stage," NSAS said.

"To detect definite cause and exact location needs a more detailed analysis which is now going on at the Cape and San Diego, Calif.," the agency added.

Tuesday's shot was to have been the maiden flight of America's revolutionary Centaur rocket. Scientists had planned to hurl the Centaur about 300 miles into space and then test fire its two hydrogen-fueled engines — the type of engines that America one day will use to rocket men and machinery to the moon.

Atlas was particularly suspect in Tuesday's explosion because the blow up occurred at an altitutde of between 20,000 and 30,000 feet—far shy of the point where Centaur was scheduled to take over.

WOULDN'T TALK

Myron E. Sharpe, president of Crosscurrents Press, Inc., of New York City, sits at the witness table Wednesday during testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee. The committee charged that Sharpe has been paid more than $240,000 by the Soviet embassy for printing Russian books and pamphlets. Sharpe invoked the 5th Amendment more than 100 times.

Fee Increase Would Raise Road Money

"The best way to get more money for roads is to raise the motor vehicle license fee," Acting County Engineer Hugh Dillon said Wednesday night.

Speaking to the Lancaster County Rural Letter Carriers Association, Dillon suggested the fee be hiked to $20, rather than boost fuel and property taxes.

After his talk, the rural letter carriers reaffirmed their opposition to any change in allocation of Schroeder mail route funds.

Dillon, candidate for the Republican county engineer nomination, said: "The state doesn't have enough money, the county doesn't have enough money, and the city doesn't have enough money" to build better roads.

To make available road money go further, Dillon said Nebraska should adopt the unit system on a statewide basis. Under that system—which Iowa has used since 1924—each county commissioner is allocated a percentage of total road money available.

"No commissioner is about to let his share go," he observed.

WomanFound Safe In Woods After A Night

New Sharon, Maine (AP)—A 79-year-old woman who likes to walk in the woods was found safe but tired Wednesday after a night in the open.

Mrs. Emma York of New Sharon was reported in "fairly good" condition despite the fact she had walked several miles, fallen, become lodged in a sitting position between two boulders and was not found for 27 hours after she left home.

Mrs. York, who walks with the aid of canes, refused to be carried and walked two-thirds of a mile to a car after a search party found her.

Officials said the woman left her home Tuesday to walk to her mailbox, a quarter mile from the house. As she had often done, she decided to walk in the woods before returning.

About 6 p.m. her son, Bryce York, came to her home and found her gone. He called for help and a search got under way, with 200 to 300 people participating before it ended.

Wednesday afternoon, one of the searchers, Wayne McCarthy, 17, found her sitting between the stones beside an old wood road near a brook.

Slate Launching Of Flashing Beacon Satellite

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — The Defense Department lifted a secrecy lid Wednesday and announced that it will attempt to launch a flashing beacon satellite Thursday to help map the earth more precisely.

Officials said the unusual move was made to allow the world's scientific community to participate in the experiment. All foreign nations, including Russia, are invited to help observe the satellite's flashes and share their measurements.

The blinking lights will not be triggered initially until trackers have had 3 days to make exact determination of the satellite's path.

A Victory

The announcement was a victory for a group of U.S. scientists who argued before Congress last month that the Defense Department should remove security wraps from the satellite project, which is named ANNA, an acronym for Army, Navy, NASA and Air Force.

Defense planners said worldwide dissemination of ANNA's date might permit Russia to aim its missiles more accurately at U.S. targets. It also could help this nation's military strategists more effectively plot targets in Russia.

Scientists like Dr. James Van Allen of the University of Iowa and Dr. Fred Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, said the precise location and distance to targets in America already is known with sufficient accuracy for the large payloads of long-range missiles. They contended that in order to obtain maximum geodetic data from the satellite, observations should be made from hundreds of stations in many countries.

Will be Distributed

By giving scientists a known point in space to be photographed against a background of stars, it will allow them to make better measurements of distances between far apart points on the earth's surface. Distances between cities on ocean-separated continents now are known only to within an accuracy of about 500 feet, while some remote island positions are off by a mile or more.

Officials say ANNA could reduce the errors to within 50 feet.

Unless an observation station knows the timing of the flashes, it would have a difficult time locating them. They would appear as very faint stars 600 miles high. Tracking stations are equipped with special cameras and telescopic gear to record the blinks.

The 335-pound spherical satellite is equipped with 4 high intensity xenon gas lights, a pair at both the top and bottom. The pair facing the earth at the required time will be ordered to wink.

LBJ Dedicates Ice Harbor Dam

Pasco, Wash (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson dedicated the $130 million Ice Harbor Dam on the Snake River Wednesday and called it a new asset by which "a prudent people will not allow the endowments of nature to waste away."

The vice president advocated further river development in general terms without touching on the federal vs. private power argument.

"By the vigor of private endeavor — by the vision of public policy," he said, "America must continue and must accelerate the development of all our regions, all our rivers, all our resources for the ultimate benefit of all our people."

Slack Water

Ice Harbor Dam, 10 miles up the Snake River from its confluence with the Columbia River, is the first of 4 federal dams planned on the Lower Snake for power, navigation, irrigation and recreation use. The 4 will provide slack water navigation to Lewiston, Idaho.

Initially, ice harbor will produce 270,000 kilowatts of electricity. Eventually development will double the output.

The dam has a 103-foot-high navigation lock and ladders for migratory fish.

Hasn't Given Up

Earlier, at a luncheon here, Johnson said the administration hasn't given up the idea of power production at Hanford, Wash., nuclear reactor.

The State approved the plan last year but the House turned down the proposal to spend $95 million facilities to produce power from by product steam. Private power and coal interests opposed it.

"Perhaps the next time around," Johnson said, "we can change some votes in Congress and end the waste of heat generated in the production of plutonium. Let's put that to work producing electricity, too."

Eastern Star Installation Set Thursday

Installation of grand officers of the Nebraska Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star Thursday will climax the 87th annual session in Lincoln this week.

Preceding the installation a banquet of the worthy patrons, worthy matrons, and associate matrons and patrons will be held.

Also the closing day agenda is a program to be presented Thursday afternoon by the children from the Masonic-Eastern Star Home.

Highlighting Wednesday's activities were recognition of 50-year members, election of officers and an initiatory ceremony.

Library Board Approves Bids

Bids for the installation of the card catalog and circulation desk in the new Bennett Martin Library were approved Wednesday by the Lincoln Library Board.

The contract for installation was awarded to the Stephenson School Supply Company, representing Mid-Century Library Furniture.

Preliminary budget information was discussed and Charles Dalrymple Jr., library director, was instructed to prepare the budget.

B. Wishnow Quits Post With County

Lancaster Deputy County Attorney Bernard Wishnow has substituted his resignation to County Attorney Paul Douglas.

Douglas said the resignation effective May 21 stated that Wishnow had found employment elsewhere but did not indicate specifically.

Wishnow was appointed to the now $7,200 a year post in 1959.

Douglas said he will appoint someone to fill the vacancy in the immediate future but has no definite person in mind for the job.

Residence Assn. Installs David Scholz As Head

David Scholz of Bellevue was installed Wednesday night as president of the Residence Association for Men at the University of Nebraska at the group's annual installation and awards banquet.

Frank M. Hallgren, associate dean for student affairs, presented scholastic awards to the following members: Fred Rickers, Wayne; Keith Phillips, Grand Island; David Kittams, Omaha; Larry Dornhoff, Heartwell; and Elvin Lukenbach, Scottsbluff.

Cited as outstanding individuals were: Pat Salerno and Calvin Carlson, both of Omaha; Ben Wassinger, Grand Island; and Bill Pflug, Norfolk.

Gov. Frank B. Morrison was speaker and Dean J. P. Colbert of student affairs acted as master of ceremonies.

Other officers installed were: Bennie Nelson, McCook, vice president; David Kittams, Omaha, secretary; Henry Krous, Indianola, activities director; David Yanney, Gordon, treasurer; Larry Donelson, Fullerton, scholastic director; Larry Porter, social director, Uehling; Willard Grummert, Fairbury, intramural director; and William Dunklau, Omaha, student council member.

William Thornton of Toledo, O., and Scholz were recognized as newly named members of Innocents Society.

Snare Ex-Con On Charge Of Bilking Wealthy Matron

New York (UPI) — An ex-convict was arrested Wednesday on charges of bilking a wealthy 82-year-old matron of $112,800 in cash and bonds.

Richard Hall, 25, who also used the name Joseph F. Lazzara, was held in $15,000 bail. He was arrested while driving from his Rockland County home to New York City.

Federal authorities said Hall's "confidence game" victim was Mrs. Elizabeth Achelis, who lives in a fashionable apartment house on the corner of Fifth Avenue and 66th St.

Hall was said to have met Mrs. Achelis when he was selling magazine subscriptions in the building. When Mrs. Achelis evinced interest in promoting a world calendar, officials said, Hall told her he happened to be trying to raise $25 million for such an enterprise.

Seek Death To 132

Beirut, Lebanon (AP)—A military investigator asked for the death sentence for at least 132 soldiers, police and civilians accused of taking part in an attempted New Year's coup in Beirut.

Hungarian Officer Flees Into Austria

Vienna, Austria (AP)—A Hungarian officer, identified as a member of the communist counterintelligence service, Wednesday escaped across the Iron Curtain into Austria under a hail of communist machine-gun bullets.

Police said the refugee, Bela Lapusnyik, 24, carried papers identifying him as a lieutenant in the interior ministry's security forces. He told investigators he worked in the counter-espionage department.

Lapusnyik rode to the Hungarian border post of Hegyeshalom on a motorcycle. He told border guards he was on an assignment, then dashed across no-man's land dodging bullets. He asked for political asylum.

POODLE ATTENDS JFK'S NEWS MEET

Washington (UPI)—A tiny French poodle named Fifi crashed President Kennedy's news conference Wednesday with some assistance from her mistress and amid much amazement from White House guards.

The pooch, with a pink ribbon on its head and a rhinestone-studded collar on its neck, was brought in by Mrs. Terry Blake Blalack, of Hollywood, Calif., who kept the dog hidden in a handbag and under a mink stole.

Reporters became aware of the tiny gray dog's presence shortly before the President arrived at 2 p.m. CST at the State Department auditorium for his televised news conference. The President did not seem to notice 25 minutes later when Fifi barked just once from her hiding place on Mrs. Blalack's lap.

Mrs. Blalack told newsmen she is a television and motion picture performer, but that she also writes from Hollywood for the Iowegian & Citizen Newspaper, of Centerville, Iowa. She said it was in the latter role, with a letter from her paper, that the White House Press Office admitted her to the conference.

Mrs. Blalack got into the press conference because the newspaper in Centerville, Iowa, sent a letter to the Associated Press here and the AP routinely transmitted the request to the White House Press Office.

"I had to take her," Mrs. Blalack told reporters who questioned her about Fifi. "She's never been away from me. She'd cry her heart out if I left her."

Mrs. Blalack said she was 58 years old, had 3 sons and 8 grandchildren, and is "known as the glamorous grandmother." She had been at the White House in the morning—with Fifi—to deliver a petition which she said had been signed by 8,000 people urging Kennedy to proclaim a National Senior Citizens Day.

"I helped her to her seat," was the incredulous report of Maj. Ralph C. Stover, chief of the White House police, who stood with 3 solemn faced lieutenants waiting for Mrs. Blalack to complete her interview with the press following the presidential news conference. She was escorted from the room by the officers but then went to an upstairs booth where she was interviewed for nationwide radio.

Following the dinner at the home of Mrs. Irene Ebeling, Mrs. Hickey installed the auxiliary's new officers.

Other officers installed:

Mrs. Ruby Wilder, president; Mrs. Jesse Bolin, senior vice president; Mrs. Roy Burke, junior vice president; Mrs. Irene Ebeling, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Carnahan, chaplain; Mrs. Victoria Smith, parliamentarian; Mrs. John Helm, historian; Mrs. Harvey Camp, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Lina Spink, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Lelia Wilder, marshal; and Mrs. Mark Martin, secretary.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. DOANE RECORDS FALL

Van Der Wal Paces Lopers

. . . RIECKE SPARKLES

Crete—Eight records were broken and another tied here Wednesday afternoon and evening in the 14th annual Doane College Relays.

Twenty-six schools provided the expected thrills in the fast-moving meet at Simon Field on the Doane capus.

Among the records toppled was the oldest (1954) mark on the books. Hastings' versatile Jack Osborne flashed to a :14.6 clocking in the 120-yard high hurdles. Previous mark was Lee Loewen's (Mankato, Minn.) :14.8.

Fairbury's Terry Riecke and Kearney's Merlin (Beanie) Lawrence both eclipsed their 1961 Doane Relays record performances.

Riecke sailed the javelin 194 feet, 11 inches to better his previous meet best of 185-6.

Lawrence, meanwhile, upped his pole vault record to 13-8 before failing 3 times at 14-3. His old Doane mark was 13-6.

Best performance of the meet was turned in by Francis Hircock of Kearney.

The bulky senior established himself as the best shot putter Nebraska college circles have seen with a toss of 55-1. He bettered former teammate Jim Jacobs' Doane standard of 54-3¾.

The running thrills Wednesday were furnished by Kearney's flying Dutchman, Hylke Van Der Wal.

Van Der Wal anchored the Antelopes' record-breaking (3:33.3) sprint medley team and eased to a 4:20 mile victory. He had a 1:54.8 half mile on the anchor leg of the medley jaunt.

Van Der Wal's brilliant run in the sprint medley saw him come from 50 yards behind to overtake Omaha and Doane.

Martin Mason, another Kearney stalwart, ran a 1:53 half mile to bring home a winning two-mile relay team. Its time of 7:50.8 also established a new mark.

Omaha's (Rocket) Roger Sayers came in for his share of accustomed Doane Relays glory.

The little sophomore anchored winning Indian 440 and 880 relay outfits and gave OU its lengthy lead in the sprint medley before Van Der Wal cruised in for all the marbles.

Sayers didn't compete in his speciality, the 100-yard dash.

Clinton Skinner, Doane's great sprinter, couldn't compete Wednesday because of a pulled leg muscle.

Jim Foster of Omaha posted a new broad jump mark of 23-6½. It tops Marion Hudson's (Dana) 23-6 distance, logged in 1956.

No team standings were kept for the meet.

HUSKERS IN FINAL WORKOUT

The Nebraska Cornhuskers went through their final heavy contact drills before All Sports Day Wednesday afternoon.

Coach Bob Devaney ordered full-scale combat in group work in a final rugged polishing session.

Friday will be devoted to light sprucing up in preparation for the Red-White intra-squad game Saturday, one of the features of NU's All Sports Day.

Tackle Bob Jones and center Ron Michka sat out Wednesday action. Jones was sidelined by bursitis, while Michka was recovering from a foot injury.

Both are expected to be available Saturday.

No-Hit Chance Ruined In 7th

. . . YANKS BUMP BOSOX

New York (AP) — Bill Monbouquette's streak of 6⅓ hitless innings was broken by rookie Tom Tresh's bunt single Wednesday and the New York Yankees followed up with 4 runs in the 7th for a 4-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Monbouquette retired the first 13 Yanks to face him before he walked Yogi Berra in the 5th. Then he made Elston Howard hit into a double play.

The Yanks had no more baserunners until Tresh bunted a little fly ball over Monbouquette's head for the first base hit with one out in the 7th. Gary Geiger then dropped Roger Maris' liner for an error. Monbouquette struck out Mickey Mantle for the 3rd straight time but walked Berra on 4 pitches, filling the bases.

Howard came through with the blow that meant the ball game, a double over the head of Carl Yastrzemski in left field, scoring Tresh, Maris and Berra. Bill Skowron followed with a single to left, driving in Howard with the 4th run of the inning.

A crowd of 6,058 saw Whitey Ford battle pitch for pitch with the Red Sox right-hander after allowing singles to Pete Runnels and Eddie Bressoud, the first two men who faced him. The next Red Sox to get a hit was Yastrzemski who doubled to left opening the 7th.

With two out in the 9th, Ford lost his shutout. Jim Pagliaroni's infield pop fly back of the mound fell in for a base hit and Frank Malzone's double scored Pagliaroni.

After Geiger beat out a bunt single, Ford struck out Hardy on a 3-2 pitch to end the game. It was Ford's 3rd victory and Monbouquette's 3rd defeat.

Yastrzemski turned in a brilliant backhanded catch of Ford's fly ball along the left field foul line with two out in the 6th. Berra contributed a fine catch on Carroll Hardy's deep liner in the 8th.

TIGERS SCORE 6-3 WIN OVER LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles (AP) — Right-hander Jim Bunning scored his 6th straight victory over Los Angeles and Al Kaline hit his 9th homer Wednesday night as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Angels 6-3.

Rocky Colavito drove in 3 Detroit runs with a 5th inning triple and robbed Billy Morran of a 3 run homer with a brilliant catch in front of the left field stands in the 7th.

Kaline drove in two runs, one with a 3rd inning double and the other with his homer — a 420 foot shot in the 7th.

Bunning, who has never lost to the Angels, gave up 8 hits and was replaced by left-hander Hank Aguirre in the 7th, when the Angels scored twice.

Robinson's Slam Boosts Baltimore

Baltimore (AP)—Brooks Robinson tied a major league record with his second grand slam homer in two games Wednesday night as the Baltimore Orioles whipped the Kansas City Athletics 6-3, ending a 4-game losing streak.

The 365-foot drive by Robinson barely cleared the left field fence which has been moved in closer to home plate this season. It capped Baltimore's 6-run rally in the second inning against loser Ed Rakow (3-2).

Milt Pappas (3-1) struck out 13 batters, including 5 of 6 during one stretch, and allowed 5 hits. He retired the last 16 batters in a row after the Athletics scored twice in the 4th on a walk, a single by Haywood Sullivan and a double by Dick Howser.

The Orioles sent 10 batters to the plate in the second, with John Powell making two of the outs. Jerry Adair and John Temple knocked in runs before Robinson's homer cleared the bases.

Rookie Manny Jimenez of Kansas City and Jim Gentile of Baltimore were removed from the game after being struck by pitched balls.

CINCINNATI REDS DUMP PHILS, 7-4

Cincinnati (AP)— Cincinnati's unbeaten Bob Purkey won his 5th game Wednesday night, limiting Philadelphia to 5 hits while the Reds went on a hitting spree to belt the Phils 7-4.

The Reds got 15 hits off 4 Philadelphia pitchers. The loss went to starter Art Mahaffey (2-4).

The Reds got down to business right away, scoring two runs in the first inning on 3 singles and a force play. They added a 3rd tally in the second when Wes Covington dropped John Edwards' fly for a two-base error and Edwards went on to score on a wild pitch and Leo Cardenas' single.

Covington got the Phils' first run with a second inning homer into the right field bleachers. It was his second home run this season.

Starter Mahaffey went to the showers in the 3rd after giving a single to Eddie Kasko and a double to Vada Pinson. Reliever Paul Brown had no better luck. He lasted two innings.

The first Brown faced was Frank Robinson who let go with a two-run single. Robinson scored on Edwards' double to right.

In the 8th inning, Philadelphia scored two unearned runs without benefit of a hit.

Ted Savage walked. Gordie Coleman booted Jim Callison's grounder and then picked it up and threw wild to first for two errors. Covington and Dalrymple hit sacrifice flys to score the two runs.

Wally Post hit his 7th homer for Cincinnati in the same inning.

Billy Klaus walked and scored on a sacrifice fly in the 9th.

TWINS TIP INJUNS

St. Paul-Minneapolis (AP) — The Minnesota Twins scored twice in the first inning on three hits, giving lefty Jack Kralick enough margin to beat the Cleveland Indians 2-1 Wednesday night.

The Indians' only run was a second inning homer by John Romanop his 3rd.

Kralick evened his record at 2-2 although he was lifted with one out in the 8th inning. Ray Moore preserved the lead, holding the Indians hitless.

The Twins hopped on Cleveland starter and loser Gary Bell, also 2-2. Harmon Killebrew's single drove in Lennie Green, who had opened the inning with a walk and advanced to 3rd.

Cleveland manager Mel McGaha sent a parade of 5 pitchers to the mound and used 19 players in the losing cause.

Twins' rookie Bernie Allen hit safely in his 13th straight game, a 4th inning double.

Pale Hose, Senators Divide Double Bill

Washington (AP)— The Chicago White Sox salvaged a split in a twi-night doubleheader with the Washington Senators Wednesday night, coming from behind to win the second game 7-6, after the Senators won the opener 9-3.

The White Sox tied the second game in the 6th on Joe Cunningham's home run with one on, and scored 3 runs in the 7th on 5 singles.

Don Rudolph, obtained from Cleveland in the Willie Tasby trade, went all the way for the Senators in the opener. Gene Woodling hit two homers and Dale Long one for the Senators in the first game.

The Senators attempted a sweep with the two pitchers obtained for Tasby when Steve Hamilton started the second game. He was betrayed by some loose fielding and a throw to the wrong base by Joe McClain, the pitcher who relieved Hamilton in the 7th. A crucial run for the White Sox scored on McClain's misplay.

Ray Herbert won the nightcap for the White Sox, although he went out for a pinch hitter in the 7th and Eddie Fisher saved it. The Senators scored two unearned runs off Fisher.

The Senators' 9-run total in the first game was their highest of the season. Long's three-run homer in the first inning started it off. Woodling hit solo homers in the third, and to lead off the eighth, his third and fourth of the season.

Preakness Entry List Growing

Baltimore (AP)— Roman Line, runner-up in the Kentucky Derby, and 6th place Crimson Satan joined the party at Pimlico Wednesday awaiting the $150,000 added Preakness on May 19.

Also checking in as a possibility for the mile and 3-16ths race was Christiana Stable's Smart.

The 3 new arrivals raised the number present for the second of the classics for 3-year-olds to 6.

Already on hand were Derby winner Decidely, Sunrise County, 5th in the Churchill Downs race last Saturday, and Greek Money.

Greek Money, owned by Brandywine Stable and winner of the Chesapeake Stakes at Laurel, is expected to be given a tune-up in the Preakness Prep Saturday.

However, Christiana Stable's Smart is the only other prospective starter at this time and the Prep may be staged as an exhibition without betting.

Pimlico had booked the prep as a $5,000 event at a mile and 16th.

George Pope's Decidedly was given a jog around the Pimlico oval Wednesday morning. T. A. Grissom's Roman Line and Peter Salmen, Sr.'s Crimson Satan both rested in their stalls after coming to Baltimore by van from Louisville.

Colts Bombarded By Dodger Hitters, 9-2

Houston (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers mounted a 16-hit attack and gained a notch in the National League race with a 9-2 romp over the Houston Colts Wednesday night.

Johnny Podres pitched an 8-hitter for the Dodgers, who moved into 3rd place, 4 games back of San Francisco and one behind St. Louis.

Podres blanked the Colts on 4 hits until two were out in the 7th inning, when Merritt Ranew rapped his second triple of the game and came in on a wild pitch. The Dodger left-hander survived bases-loaded jams in the 4th and 8th, then allowed the other Colt run in the 9th.

Podres walked 4 as he evened his season record at 2-2.

Ranew hit a ninth inning single to go with his two triples.

Form Plan To Honor Swimmers

A plan to honor former Lincoln swimmers who lost their lives in World War II was presented to the Lincoln Park Board Wednesday.

Dr. Richard P. Marshall presented the plan to name Lincoln's swimming pools after 5 former swimmers.

Speaking on behalf of a committee made up of former Lincoln high school and University of Nebraska swimmers Dr. Marshall cited Donald Hilgert, Donald McDowell, John Erickson, Clifton Lambert and Bill Snider as swimmers deserving of the honor.

Board president Max Roper suggested that Marshall meet with people living in the areas where swimming pools are located to gain their opinion on the subject.

Emmett J. Junge suggested that another plan to honor these swimmers would be to name the proposed city-wide pool at Woods Park, "Woods Park Memorial Pool," Junge suggested that the names might then be inscribed on a plaque at the pool.

Jaipur Heavy Favorite In Saturday's Withers

... FUTURE FOE OF DECIDEDLY

New York (AP)—George D. Widener's Jaipur, the colt rated with the best chance of stopping Decidedly's quest for a 3-year-old Triple Crown, will head the lineup Saturday in the $50,000-added Withers Mile at Aqueduct.

Jaipur wasn't eligible for the Kentucky Derby, won by California-bred Decidedly last Saturday at Louisville. His owner elected to save Jaipur for the $150,000-added Preakness at Pimlico in Baltimore May 19, and the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes June 9 in New York.

Ten may start in the Withers, which is certain to produce several candidates for the Preakness, middle jewel of the elusive Derby-Preakness-Belmont Triple Crown.

Decidedly, owned by George A. Pope, Jr., of San Francisco, already is at Pimlico with other Derby colts awaiting the 1 3-16 miles Preakness.

Jaipur should be an odds-on choice in the Withers, which has been won by 11 horses who have doubled up with a Preakness Victory. Jaipur easily defeated Sunrise County, Admiral's Voyage, Mister Pitt and Prego who were also-rans in the Derby in the $58,500 Gotham Stakes April 7 at Aqueduct.

Several days later Jaipur developed a bruised hoof, and missed the Wood Memorial, but is in top form again for the Withers.

Other possible Withers starters include Bruce Campbell's Dedimoud, Darby Dan Farm's Clover Leaf, Charles Engelhard's Nassau Hall, Greentree Stable's Cyrano, Mrs. Ada L. Ric's Daddy R., Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Lucky Uncle, Mrs. Adele L. Rand's Green Ticket, Gustave Ring's Stinson Beach, J. W. Rodgers' Duc D'Or, and Tartan Stable's Western Warrior. Nassau Hall won the Delaware Valley Stakes at Garden State Park and is probable second choice to Jaipur Saturday. Daddy R. won the Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie.

Willie Shoemaker rides Jaipur, but trainer Bert Mulholland has a problem one week later. Shoemaker is contracted to ride Meadow Stable's Cicada, the Kentucky Oaks winner, in the $50,000 Acorn Stakes at Aqueduct. That leaves Jaipur open for the Preakness, and the jockey line forms to the right.

The Withers dates to 1874, a year older than the Derby, and its 1878 winner was Duke of Magenta, who became the first to follow with a Preakness score. Sir Barton, Man O'War, Count Fleet, Hill Prince and Native Dancer were among others hitting the double.

If 10 go in the Withers the purse would gross $60,100, with $39,065 to the winner.

To Quit Football

San Francisco (AP) — Eddie Erdelatz who rose to coaching heights with stunning Navy football victories over Army — then was fired by the tailend Oakland Raiders of the fledgling American Football League — quit the game Wednesday "forever, and without regrets."

He will become vice president in charge of public relations for two San Francisco bay area subsidiaries of the California Financial Corporation.

Erdelatz, 49, coached the Naval Academy football teams 1950-1958, then quit in a clash of personalities with Navy athletic director Slade Cutter.

He signed with Oakland when the AFL started in 1960 but was fired two games into the 1961 season after the Raiders were walloped 55-0 by Houston and 44-0 by San Diego.

Football Teams Set For All-Sports Day

The Reds and Whites will square off in an intrasquad football game Saturday as the climax of All-Sports Day at the University of Nebraska.

Coach Bob Devaney and his staff have made an effort to divide the squad as equally as possible.

The depth charts for the two squads:

Reds

LE—Larry Tomlinson, John Koinzan, Pat Fisher, Robert Lockwood.
LT—Tyrone Robertson, Monte Kiffin, Clarence Osentowski.
LG—Dwain Carlson, Gary Gray, Charles Garner, Jerry Payne.
C—Ron Michka, Don Stevenson, Mike Fugitt, Al Suplick.
RG—Gary Toogood, William Rogers, LaVane Johnson.
RT—Lloyd Voss, John Strohmeyer, Calvin Reehl, Gene Cunningham.
RE—Jim Huge, Curtis Bryan, Don Goos, Jerry Spears.
QB—Dennis Claridge, Ron Gilbreath, Jeff Shafter.
LH—Willie Ross, Maynard Smidt, John Vujevich.
RH—Rudy Johnson, Willie Paschall, John Sebastian.
FB—Bill Thornton, Noel Martin, Bruce Smith.

Whites

LE—Bill Comstock, Mike Eger, Steve Johnson, Gary Warden.
LT—Bob Jones, Larry Kramer, Russ Barone, Jim Weir.
LG—John Kirby, John Dervin, Richard Ashman.
C—Duncan Drum, Lyle Sittler, Dave Banks.
RG—John McDermott, Jed Rood, Bob Brown, Ulysses Brown.
RT—Al Fischer, Ron Griesse, Dave Haas, Bruce Craig.
RE—Larry Donovan, Richard Callahan, Chuck Doepke, Gary Lucas.
QB—Doug Tucker, John Faiman, Gary Graham, Jerry Fischer.
LH—Dave Theisen, Warren Powers, James Little, Bill Johnson.
RH—Dennis Stuewe, Kent McCloughan, Ken Simondynes.
FB—Gene Young, Mike Koehler, Joe McNulty.

The coaching staff also has been split for the Saturday fray. Mike Corgan, George Kelly, Cletus Fischer and Tom Osburn will handle the Whites. Carl Selmer, John Melton, Harry Tolly and Dal Dyer will be in charge of the Red squad.

Coach Devaney will keep an eye on both squads. Jim Ross will be on a recruiting trip.

"There is no question but that our squad has improved during the spring drills," Coach Devaney said.

"The attitude has been good," he added, "More and more of our players are realizing the effort that must be put forth to be successful. They are willing to pay the price."

Coach Devaney has decided not to attempt to put in his spread formation until next fall. He had hoped to devote this last week of spring drills to this phase but movies of last Saturday's battle brought out too many errors in the offense now installed.

Some of the players who have earned praise from the staff recently are Ron Michka, center from Omaha; Lloyd Voss, Magnolia, Minn., tackle; Warren Powers, Kansas City, Mo., Rudy Johnson, Aransas Pass, Tex., Dennis Stuewe, Hamburg, Minn., and Maynard Smidt, Cozad.

Rog Maris Again Man To Beat

. . . HOME RUN DERBY OFF'N RUNNING

New York (UPI) — Roger Maris of the Yankees, only man ever to hit 61 homers in one season, again is the man to beat in the current home run derby.

The powerful Yankee slugger has been trailing several rivals as home run fever spreads in both leagues but he's ahead of his record 1961 pace, despite being a notoriously slow starter, and that's all the counts with Roger.

Both major leagues now are on an expanded 162-game schedule so they're all running the same course in the assault on Babe Ruth's 154-game mark of 60. Here's how the list of challengers is shaping up:

Roger Maris, Yankees—He proved Ruth's 1926 mark is within reach of modern hitters, even though he had only 58 at the end of 154 games last year. Has a home run swing of the "all or nothing" type that makes him dangerous all the way. Got off fast, for him, with 5 in his first 21 games. Hit his 5th in 30th game last year.

Willie Mays, San Francisco Giants—off to a great start with a pace that would produce 61 if projected over the season. Prone to slumps as well as hot streaks. Hit 40 last year.

Orlando Cepeda, Giants—led National League with 46 last year and rated a good bet to boost that total under the NL's expansion pains this year. Off to good start, too.

Leon Wagner, Los Angeles Angels — hit only 28 last year but his early pace was the fastest in the majors through last weekend with 9 in only 20 games.

Mickey Mantle, Yankees — An authentic slugger, he has the advantage of being a switch hitter. But he's at a disadvantage in the home run derby because pitchers walk him so often.

Vada Pinson, Cincinnati Reds — Already has hit more than half his total of 16 last year but isn't considered a serious rival — yet.

Frank Thomas, New York Mets — Has the short and friendly fences at the Polo Grounds going for him this year. Early pace would give him 64 for a full season if maintained.

Norm Cash, Detroit Tigers —Led the American League in batting last year with .361 and 41 homers. Off to good start, must be counted.

Al Kaline, Tigers —also started well but not noted for high homer totals.

Rocky Colavito, Tigers, and Frank Robinson, Reds — Both struggling to find the range.

Ernie Banks, Chicago Cubs —back on the beam after an "off" year in 1961 in which he hit only 29.

Hank Aaron, Eddie Mathews and Joe Adcock of the Braves — Dangerous trio but early pace indicates 40 is about the limit for the year and what's wrong with that?

Jim Landis, Chicago White Sox — had 7 in his first 25 games compared to 22 in 162 last year. Could be a dark horse.

Jim Gentile, Baltimore Orioles, and Harmon Killebrew, Minnesota Twins — Close enough to make it a fight. Both had 46 last year.

But when you're picking the man to beat it has to be the modern champ — Roger Maris.

Triple Crown Jinxed?

—PREAKNESS BIG HURDLE FOR DECIDEDLY—

New York (UPI) — Is the Triple Crown jinxed?

There hasn't been a winner of racing's coveted Triple — Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont — since Citation scored in 1948 and the experts already are predicting Decidedly won't make it this year.

They like the current Kentucky Derby winner in the mile and one-half Belmont coming up in June but figure the Preakness course is too short (1 3/16 miles) and too tight on the turns to give Decidedly a break.

Now about the jinx:

Since 1948, only two colts won the Derby and Preakness and came up to the Belmont with a chance for the Triple. Both of them — Tim Tam in '58 and Carry Back last year —wound up lame or sore while losing the Belmont.

Since '48, 7 colts won two of the 3 races and 6 of the 7 were beaten by only one other horse in the one race they lost while shooting for the triple. The hexed 6:

1949 — Capot, second to Ponder in the Derby; 1950—Middleground, second to Hill Prince in the Preakness; 1953 —Native Dancer, second to Dark Star in the Derby; 1955 —Nashua, second to Swaps in the Derby; 1956 — Needles, second to Fabius in the Preakness; 1958 — Tim Tam, second to Cavan in the Belmont.

And last year it was Carry Back, winner of the Derby and Preakness, who wound up sore and 7th in the Belmont, won by Sherluck.

Yet, in roughly the same number of years from 1935-1948 the Triple was fairly common. After Six Marton (1919) and Gallant Fox (1930), there was a cluster of 6 winners—Omaha (1935), War Admiral (1937), Whirlaway (1941), Count Fleet (1943), Assault (1946), Citation (1948).

During that period there also were two near misses, Bold Venture in 1936 and Pensive in 1944. Bold Venture bowed a tendon after winning the first two legs of the Triple and did not start in the Belmont. Pensive won the first two, finished second to Bounding Home in the Belmont.

Veteran horsemen are completely devoid of theories to account for the drouth since Citation's last triumph, particularly since 7 stars of recent vintage have come so close.

"Luck has to play a part," said Marshall Cassidy of the Jockey Club. "During the years when we had several Triple Crown winners, the standout horses stood up under the strain while some of their chief rivals broke down after one or two of the races in the Triple.

"In any year, it's a difficult task to ask any horse to achieve. It means 3 races at different distances in different parts of the country. And usually, the standout horse has to face a group of new rivals in each race."

But they still can't explain why 6 of the 8 Triple Crown winners were bunched from 1935-48 or why we've had none since.

"I just don't know," said Cassidy.

"Nor I," said John Day of the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

A jinx, maybe?

Leave Wildlife Alone Say Game Technicians

Young wildlife animals are better off left in the wild, according to game technicians of the Game Commission.

Since this is the season when the first litters of young rabbits, squirrels, raccoons, and other animals put in their appearance, some individuals are inclined to pick them up, take them home, and raise them as pets.

Even though it appears the young have been abandoned, this is rarely the case. The mother is usually nearby, knows where her young are, and will return in a short time.

While most of the individuals are well-meaning when they take the young wildlife home, the animals will not be able to be turned loose into the wild again. Once raised in captivity, the animals forfeit their chances for survival in the wild.

Statistics prove that most all of the young cottontails taken from the nest die within a week or 10 days after they are in captivity. The raccoons, although docile when quite small, after reaching four or five months often become vicious, scratching and biting their owners. Raccoons have also been known to create havoc in the chicken house and tear shingles from the roofs of buildings.

Captive wildlife is a waste of natural resources. In addition, it is unlawful for any person to keep any wild birds or game in captivity without obtaining a special permit.

PACKERS TO START LATE

Milwaukee (AP)—The Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football League, will have only a little more than two weeks of practice before meeting the College All Stars at Soldier Field in Chicago Aug. 3. But their coach feels a shorter period of training will avoid a letdown later in the season.

Coach Vince Lombardi has set July 15 for the opening of practice for rookies. Veterans will report two days later.

The champs could begin workouts a few days earlier but Lombardi has decided against it, he told a press and radio-TV dinner.

"The All-Star Game poses a problem," said Lombardi. "That has been its history. You have to get ready for it because you are carrying the prestige of the whole League and it's on national television. But getting sharp too early can cause a letdown sometime later in the season."

Lombardi said he didn't know whether the Packers' servicemen, including halfbacks Paul Hornung, Elizah Pitts and Herb Adderly, end Boyd Dowler and linebacker Ray Nitschke, would be available for the All Star Game, but he added "I certainly hope so."

Incumbents Score Heavily In Primaries

By The Associated Press

Incumbents won the day in Tuesday's primaries in 5 states, just as they had in earlier nominating contests in 5 other states.

Next week will see further primary testing in Maryland, Nebraska, Pennsylvania and Oregon.

Here briefly are the results of Tuesday's jousting which saw candidates picked for Senate seats in Florida and Ohio, governorships in Ohio and New Mexico, and 54 House seats in those states and Indiana and West Virginia:

FLORIDA

Sen. George A. Smathers, who had the blessing of President Kennedy, an old friend, easily won renomination over two opponents.

Claude Pepper, former New Deal Senator who was unseated by Smathers in 1950 and who ran on a strong pro-Kennedy platform, defeated 3 opponents in a political comeback for a House seat in the Miami area.

In a clear-cut liberal-conservative scrap, Rep. Dante Fascell, a Miami liberal who also ran with Kennedy backing, defeated State Rep. David Eldredge, a conservative, in the most spirited of 6 congressional races.

OHIO

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won Democratic renomination for governor in a hot fight with Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy. In the Nov. 6 election he will meet state auditor James A. Rhodes, former Columbus mayor, who won the GOP nomination handily.

U.S. Senator Frank J. Lausche swamped two Democratic opponents for renomination, and John Marshall Briley of Toledo, won the Republican Senate nomination.

Robert Taft Jr., son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, won the GOP nomination for congressman-at-large over state Sen. Lowell Fess, son of the late Sen. Simeon D. Fess. Democrat Richard D. Kennedy, real estate man, will face young Taft in November.

NEW MEXICO

Jack M. Campbell, speaker of the state house, won the Democratic nomination for governor in a contest with 3 others. Republican Gov. Edwin L. Mechem had no opposition for a fifth term nomination.

INDIANA

All 11 House incumbents, 7 Republicans and 4 Democrats, were renominated in a light-voting primary.

WEST VIRGINIA

Democratic Reps. Ken Hechler and Elizabeth Kee, only incumbents with primary opposition, won easy victories for chances at further duty in the House.

In the only other Congressional contest, Clyde B. Pinson, a coal broker, won a fairly close three-way contest to be Hechler's GOP opponent in November.

Stocks Slip To Year's Lows

New York (AP) — The stock market failed an important technical test Wednesday and fell to new lows for the year in more active trading.

Wall Streeters had hoped that the mid-session lows of the climactic May 1 session would hold in a future test and provide support for a rally. They didn't.

The Dow Jones industrial average sank 9.20 to 654.70, a new closing low for the year.

Volume rose to 3.67 million shares from Tuesday's 3.02 million.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 3.20 to a new yearly low of 241.60 with industrials down 4.90 to a new 1962 low, rails down .80 and utilities down 1.90, also to a new low for the year.

An estimated $4.7 billion was shorn from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the decline in the AP average.

Of 1,278 issues traded, 884 declined and 208 advanced. New lows for the year totaled 245 and new highs 12.

Thirteen of the 15 most active stocks declined and two advanced.

The decline affected all but a few of the leading stocks.

Prices retreated on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds rose. U.S. government bonds also advanced.

Trio Charged With Giving False Info

. . . GUN INCIDENT

Tommie L. Hudson, who suffered a .22 caliber bullet wound in the thigh Sunday night, was charged, along with two companions, Wednesday with obstructing and perverting justice by giving false information to police.

Hudson, 20, and Charles W. Williams, 23, and Theodore S. Smith, 20, all airmen at the Lincoln Air Force Base, were charged in connection with the account given concerning the shooting incident which sent police officers searching for an unidentified assailant.

However, Hudson later told officers he had been sitting in a parked car arguing with two friends when his gun discharged.

Base officials imposed a partial restriction on base personnel from 10 p.m. Sunday to early Monday while details of the shooting were being checked out.

Administration Hit For Delaying Sugar Hearings

Washington (AP) — The Kennedy administration was chided by Rep. Ralph F. Beermann (R-Neb), for holding up hearings on sugar market proposals.

Beermann, a member of the House Agriculture Committee which will start such sessions on May 15, said in a statement:

"The administration has delayed sugar hearings since May 1 because it hasn't sent down its recommendations, consequently valuable time has been wasted on 3 attempts to vote out the farm bill.

"'That's the trouble. We'll sit around waiting to find out where the administration or state department wants to sweeten the income of some foreign country with a sugar quota, then will try to pass a bill at 3 o'clock in the morning in the sweat of adjournment."

Chairman Harold D. Cooley, (D-NC), of the Agriculture Committee announced the hearing date on proposals to extend the sugar act, which expires on June 30.

Army Mothers Hold Annual State Meet

North Platte (AP) — U.S. Army Mothers of Nebraska met here Wednesday in their 16th annual convention.

Grand Island Veterans Hospital Chaplain Charles Mosher addressed the meeting.

Johnson Resigns As Hospital Administrator

Omaha (AP) — Duane Johnson has submitted his resignation as administrator of University Hospital.

He has held the post since 1953. The University of Nebraska College of Medicine is interviewing candidates to succeed him. Johnson has not set a definite date to leave, and has not announced his new position.

Omahan Paroled After 26 Years

John Bryl of Omaha cleared his penal account with Nebraska Wednesday, 26 years after a Douglas County District Court sentenced him to 5 years for robbery.

Bryl was sent to the State Penitentiary Feb. 2, 1936, but escaped Sept. 25 the following year and wasn't returned to Nebraska until Oct. 8, 1960.

During the interim he did time in Iowa and Michigan jails, twice escaping confinement in Iowa.

The Lancaster County District Court tacked on an extra year for the escape, which the State Board of Pardons and Paroles acted on. Bryl previously satisfied his robbery term.

Killer Paroled

A man who killed an Omaha filling station attendant during a robbery attempt 16 years ago, also was paroled Wednesday.

He is James C. Taylor, who was convicted of second degree murder by a Douglas County District Court Aug. 12, 1946 and sentenced to life imprisonment. The sentence was later commuted to 35 years.

Taylor was on parole after serving some time in the Douglas County Jail for burglary when the shooting occurred.

Six other penitentiary inmates got immediate paroles too. The board commuted the sentences of 3 others, but they are being held on detainers to answer charges elsewhere.

Those paroled (including name, home, crime, county where convicted, term and date of sentencing):

Edw. J. Starr; 21; Pine Ridge, S.D.; breaking and entering; Box Butte; two to 5 years; April 7, 1960.

Homer Chapman; 31; Wellsville, Kan.; possession of firearms; Cheyenne; 5 years; May 25, 1960.

John M. Williamson; 27; none; issuing a forged instrument; Dawes; two to 5 years; April 18, 1960.

James C. Taylor; 42; Hominy, Okla.; second degree murder; Douglas; life (commuted to 35 years); Aug. 12, 1946.

Dennis E. Watson; 27; Omaha; robbery; Douglas; 9 years; March 25, 1958.

Ronald J. Jordan; 25; Omaha; escape from prison; Lancaster; one year; Feb. 17, 1959.

John Bryl; 50; Omaha; escape from prison; Lancaster; one year; Oct 10, 1960.

Johnson Wolfe; 35; Macy; breaking and entering; Thurston; 3 to 5 years; March 2, 1960.

Commuted, but being detained:

Jesse R. Shrum; 21, Durant, Okla.; breaking and entering; Nuckolls; one and a half to 3 years; Nov 15, 1960.

George Carmack Jr.; 23; Crossville, Tenn.; breaking and entering; Nuckolls; one and a half to 3 years; Nov. 15, 1960.

Carl D. McLaughlin; 20; Durant, Okla.; breaking and entering; Nuckolls; one and a half to 3 years; Nov. 15,
